

PEACE TREATIES STRIP 5 NATIONS

OUTPUT FROM FACTORIES AT PEAK LEVELSRECORD VOLUME OF GOODS ON WAY TO CONSUMERS

BY STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, July 30 (AP)—A "record volume" of goods may flow to consumers in the next six months, Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small forecast tonight on the strength of rapid recovery in steel and coal.

Factory output hit a new post-war peak in June. Small revealed in his quarterly report. It topped pre-war monthly records in washing machines, vacuum cleaners, gas ranges, electric irons and table model radios.

Some slumps were noted, but not enough to offset the general rise. Autos dropped 11 percent in June from May but rose again in July; farm equipment and tires also declined in June, by three and 10 percent respectively.

More Gains In July
"Additional production gains were registered in July in spite of uncertainties concerning price controls and the adverse effects on production resulting from holidays and vacation periods," the CPA administrator said.

One warning note was sounded: It is probable that a "serious shortage of labor is developing" which may prove to be "an important limiting factor in production by the end of the year."

"The prospects are that business will, first, have to recruit back into the labor force large numbers of those who have left it since V-J Day, and second, require that large amounts of overtime be worked if production schedules are to be met," the CPA administrator said.

Despite the fact that 10,000,000 war veterans and 50,000,000 war workers have been discharged in the last 12 months, the industrial demand for workers has been so great that unemployment has risen only 1,600,000, and "still may be considered remarkably low," Small said.

Lumber Shortage Felt
A steady trend in building materials, especially lumber, was shown in June. Brick and insulating board production mounted to new postwar highs.

The lumber shortage still is severe enough, however, to hold down household furniture output, with production well below the 1941 level.

The volume of new construction rose 11 percent in June, $821,000,000. But small construction leveled off from earlier months, gaining only 10 percent as against 24 percent in May.

The automobile industry, still suffering from the steel, coal and railroad strikes, turned out only 12,000 cars in June, down 11,000 from May, but Detroit reports for this month have shown a marked upturn. Tire output sagged because of the synthetic rubber shortage but stayed above prewar levels with 5,200,000 casings produced.

The June record in other goods: Refrigerators—210,000, up seven percent from May but still 32 percent under the prewar production. Washing machines—193,000, up four percent from May and 22 percent above prewar.

Radios—1,378,000, up 16 percent from May, which already was above prewar levels. Vacuum cleaners—177,000, up seven percent from May and 13 percent above prewar.

Terrorists Hunted
In Tel Aviv; Troops
Will Shoot To Kill

BY CARTER L. DAVISON

Jerusalem, July 30 (AP)—Twenty thousand British troops, ordered to "shoot to kill" violators, clamped a 22-hour-a-day curfew on Tel Aviv today and began a systematic street-by-street hunt for terrorists responsible for recent outbreaks of violence in the Holy Land.

The entire population of 200,000 in the modern all-Jewish city was under house arrest as the troops began their vast manhunt, unprecedented in the turbulent history of Palestine. Up to 3,000 arrests were expected.

By early evening the red-beretted Tommies already had screened a large number of Jews through their dragnet and had detained 133 men and 10 women for questioning.

A high-ranking officer said the curfew would last three or four days while the troops hunted down members of Irgun Zvai Leumi and the Stern gang, Jewish underground organizations, "and other wanted persons."

Two Hours For Shopping
The troops also were believed to be searching for caches of arms and clandestine radio transmitters.

An official statement said the operation was the direct result of the bombing eight days ago of the King David hotel in Jerusalem.

All telephone communication between Tel Aviv and the rest of the Holy Land was halted. Hebrew newspapers did not publish. Vessels were forbidden to put to sea from Tel Aviv harbor.

For only two hours daily will the curfew be lifted, and then only to afford residents opportunity to purchase necessities.

Palestine high commissioner Lt. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham said the main object was the "detection of terrorists" and that it was the direct result of "the vile and horrible crime" of the hotel bombing in which "over 100 innocent civilians lost their lives."

An underground "Irgun" had said the Irgun Zvai Leumi did the bombing. "There is clear evidence," Sir Alan declared, "of the existence of terrorists in Tel Aviv, and that some, if not all, of those who took part in the Jerusalem crime came from that town."

RECORD IS SET
BYV-2 ROCKETGerman Missile Goes
Up 104 Miles In Army Test

White Sands, N. M., July 30. (AP)—A new world's altitude record of 104 miles was claimed today by the army for a German V-2 rocket fired by technicians at the White Sands Proving Grounds.

Eclipsing by 20.3 miles the best previous mark, the height was announced by Col. Harold R. Turner, White Sands commandant, after more than two hours' delay caused by loss of radio contact with field stations observing the missile's flight.

The rocket descended 69 miles north of the launching platform, gouging a deep crater in the New Mexico desert.

Colonel Turner said that instruments carried in the nose came down intact and are expected to provide more information than ever before was available, about such matters as cosmic rays, temperatures and pressure at that distance above the earth.

Invalid Girl Admits
Killing Stepfather;
Self-Defense Cited

Springfield, Ill., July 30 (AP)—Lawrence Barregeye, 36, was shot and stabbed to death in his home tonight, and Coroner W. L. Drago said Barregeye's 19-year-old invalid stepdaughter had signed a statement that she shot him after he "advanced in a threatening manner."

No charges have been filed against the girl.

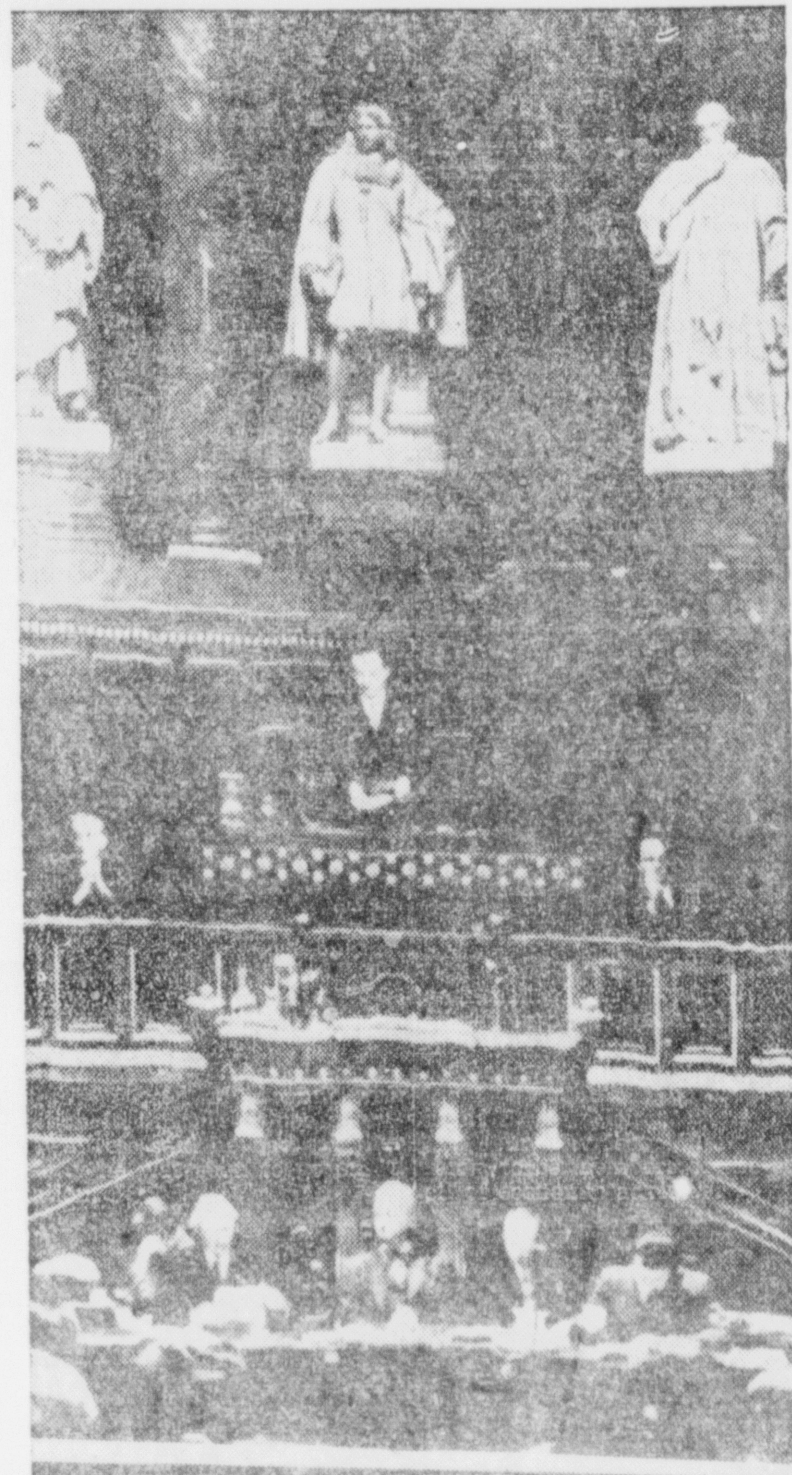

Drago said the girl, Miss Jacqueline Colburn, has been confined to a wheelchair since she was four years old.

No Polio Reported
In Upper Peninsula

Lansing, July 30 (AP)—There is no sign of a serious outbreak of infantile paralysis in Michigan although the number of cases is rising, Dr. William DeKleine, state health commissioner, said today.

He said there have been 50 reported since July 1, which is the critical period. To date there have been 65 cases in the state this year compared with 25 in all of 1945.

He said there were no cases in the Upper Peninsula.

Heirens Balks, Won't
Confess Killings, Says
He Doesn't Remember

Chicago, July 30 (AP)—"I don't remember."

With these words William Heirens, 17-year-old University of Chicago student, brought to a sudden and dramatic end today a widely publicized plan of his attorneys for him to "make a confession" to the state's attorney the details of the Suzanne Degnan kidnapping-killing and two other brutal slayings.

State's Attorney William J. Touhy immediately announced he would proceed with arrangements to prosecute the accused youth on murder charges.

The strapping youth, surrounded by attorneys, police and public officials, secretaries, and stenographers in the state's attorney's office, began giving what his lawyers had announced would be a formal confession of the three slayings.

Suddenly he began parrying all questions with "I don't remember." He gave this response to all pertinent questions about the Degnan case, the "lipstick" slaying of Frances Brown and the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Josephine Ross, 43 year old widow.

The development caught both defense and prosecution by surprise.

Sheriff Michael Mulcahy said Heirens gave an indication last night he might balk at going through with the confession when three letters, two to his parents and one to a girl acquaintance, were seized in his jail cell and turned over to Touhy.

The Sheriff said the youth became angry when the undressed letters were confiscated and demanded they be returned. When his demands were turned down, Mulcahy added, Heirens said, "If I don't get them back, I won't cooperate."

The youth subsequently conferred with his lawyers, however, presumably about the arrangements for today.

John Coghlan, spokesman for the defense counsel, issued this hastily prepared statement when the conference collapsed:

"This meeting (with state prosecutors) was held in conformity with the written directions of the accused and his parents. However, his condition is such that it is inadvisable to proceed further at this time."

Last Saturday, Mulcahy Coghlan, another defense lawyer, said "after three weeks of sufficient investigation, the defense attorneys have decided to allow William Heirens to make a confession. He is willing to make a confession."

Heirens, complaining of a "severe headache" was arraigned today in criminal court, before being taken into Touhy's office, and was granted a continuance to Aug. 14 on murder charges in the Degnan and Brown slayings. No plea was entered for him.

APPOINTEES CONFIRMED
Washington, July 30 (AP)—The Senate unanimously approved today President Truman's nomination of Edwin G. Nourse to be chairman of the economic council set up by the federal employment act.

The Senate also confirmed President Truman's nominations of Leon H. Keyserling, New York, and John Davidson, Clark, Wyoming, to be members of the council of economic advisers.

BYRNES SAYS
U. S. DESIRES
NO VENGEANCESMALLER COUNTRIES
GET BACKING OF AMERICA

BY LYNN HEINZERLING

Paris, July 30 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes, strengthening the voice of the small nations in the European peace conference, pledged United States support tonight for any changes in the big four treaty drafts sought by a two-thirds vote of all 21 nations. His declaration, plainly stating the American position against arbitrary rejection of smaller nations' recommendations for the final treaty drafts, came after the powerful rules committee approved the principle of complete publicity for all conference deliberations.

Suggestions Not Binding
Byrnes also asserted that the United States never again would return to a policy of isolation, and declared "we do not want a peace of vengeance" that would plant "the seeds of future wars."

Byrnes received ringing applause, and British Prime Minister Attlee then urged that the four powers "should not, and indeed cannot, be unresponsive to the ideas of other nations, especially those nations who have contributed so much to victory."

The four power council of foreign ministers, which drew the treaty drafts submitted to this conference, invited the 17 other nations to express their views. The four powers, however, did not bind themselves to accept any revisions which might be suggested by the smaller powers.

Harmony Evident
Both Byrnes and Attlee urged strict attention by the conference to the verge of world opinion.

"The United Nations," Byrnes said, "will stand by its agreements in the (four-power) council. But if the conference should by a two-thirds vote of the governments here represented make a contrary recommendation, the United States will use its influence to secure the adoption of that recommendation by the council."

The second day of the conference was marked by a striking display of harmony.

Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium was elected permanent chairman of the rules committee by a 13-7 vote after a protracted argument during which the Soviet Union supported Vice-Premier Edward Karelj of Yugoslavia.

But Britain and the United States promptly supported Karelj for vice-chairman and he was chosen by acclamation.

Open To Press
A moment later Russia's delegate accepted the American plea for free access to conference sessions for the world's press. Since all 21 nations are represented on the rules committee, the full conference is expected to approve the

TERMINAL PAY
PLAN APPROVEDHouse Appropriates Sum
Of $2,431,798,000 For GI Furlough Bill

BY FRANCIS J. KELLY

Washington, July 30 (AP)—A "bottled-in-bonds" terminal pay bill for servicemen and veterans was agreed upon today by a Senate House conference committee.

The five-year bonds in which the major portion of the payments would be made are non-negotiable, but the committee which worked out the final form of the bill provided that they could be used for payments on government life insurance.

An appropriation bill to provide $2,431,798,000 for GI furlough today was passed by the House and sent to the Senate. The bill also provides an additional $26,000,000 for OPA.

An estimated $2,400,000,000 would be paid to present and former service personnel in lieu of furlough time they were unable to take during service. Grants would be made on the basis of 2½ days pay for each month of service since Sept. 8, 1939 with a limit of 120 days. On next Sept. 1 the carry-over limit would drop to 60 days.

The conference agreement went back to Senate and House for final approval.

Enactment of the bill would put the enlisted personnel of the armed forces on somewhat the same basis as officers, who have been enjoying paid terminal leave all along. The officers, however, get paid in cash.

Food And Clothing
Price Ceilings Are Pushed Up By OPA

BY MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, July 30 (AP)—Government officials tonight predicted higher price ceilings for canned vegetables, breakfast cereals, coffee and possibly bread and other bakery products.

Meanwhile OPA rolled out more price increases on clothing and laid the groundwork for still more garment hikes—perhaps as much as 15 to 20 per cent—under terms of the new price control law.

As a first step toward meeting these terms, the agency has agreed to increase cotton textile prices an average of 16 per cent, an OPA spokesman said. Higher prices for cotton clothing will be based on these increases.

Industry representatives who met with OPA today had asked a flat 20 per cent increase on all cotton textiles. OPA's original proposal provided for an increase of about 14 per cent.

Officials who asked to remain anonymous said the government has just about decided against restoration of subsidies on coffee and three major canned vegetables—peas, corn and tomatoes.

They said permanent elimination of these subsidies, which lapsed July 1, will raise price ceilings on these vegetables by one to two cents for number two cans.

On coffee, officials estimated that with subsidies out of the picture retail ceilings would have to be jumped eight to ten cents a pound. About half of this amount represents an increase which was pending at the start of this month, when OPA lapsed.

An OPA official told a reporter there is "complete indecision" on whether the flour subsidy should be restored. He said bread prices "will not be raised" if subsidies are paid again, but that a price increase is possible if the payments are ruled out.

As for clothing, OPA increased retail ceilings an average of eight per cent on a number of men's outer wear garments, including mackinaws, leather coats and jackets, hunting and fishing clothing, heavy wool shirts and lined sports jackets made of cotton.

These increases, granted to offset higher production costs, followed price hikes yesterday of from 11 to 21 per cent on shirts, shorts and pajamas.

SOLON QUIZZED
ON $2500 'GIFT'War Contractor's Check
Not In Congressman's
Income Tax Returns

BY ALEX H. SINGLETON

Washington, July 30 (AP)—Rep. Coffee (D-Wash.) insisted under oath today that a $2,500 check from a defense contractor was a "campaign contribution." He added, in response to questions, that he had not listed it in either his income tax returns or election contribution report.

Appearing voluntarily before the Senate war investigating committee, Coffee sharply contradicted sworn testimony two hours earlier by Elvind Anderson, Tacoma, Wash., contractor, that he had paid the money in 1941 for "service."

Anderson testified that a "verbal contract" on the payment was reached in 1941 in a conversation among himself, Coffee and Paul A. Olson, then the congressman's secretary.

He quoted Coffee as opening the conversation by saying that "I understand from Paul that you will pay $2,500 for us to represent you in Washington."

"Yes," the contractor testified he agreed, "I will be willing to pay $2,500 to have representation in Washington. That will be all right with me."

Coffee asserted that Anderson "gratefully" over assistance lent him by himself and his secretary in obtaining a million dollar contract to build a war department hospital, and for previous aid—had offered him the contribution.

Conference Called
In J. I. Case Strike
For Friday Morning

Washington, July 30. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and Secretary of Labor Schweikert tonight invited the union and management of J. I. Case company, farm equipment plants strike bound since last Christmas, to meet here Friday.

They acted after a conference with President Truman.

Telegrams were sent to Lawrence Christman, international representative of the UAW-CIO, Milwaukee, and L. S. Chasens, company president at Racine, Wis., inviting them to a meeting in the labor department at 10 a. m. Friday.

THREE CLAIM TEETH
Decatur, Ill., July 30 (AP)—A Decatur policeman found a set of false teeth in the alley last night, and turned them in at headquarters. This morning James Davidson showed up and claimed them. But within a short time so did two other men. Police ruled, "first come, first served." Davidson got them.

FOUR POWERS
PUT PACTS TO VOTE IN PARISITALY BIG LOSER
IN TERRITORIAL POSSESSIONS

Paris, July 30. (AP)—The treaty drafts prepared by the big four foreign ministers for submission to the Paris peace conference propose to strip Italy, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Finland of all but a vestige of their war machines, billions for $1,000,000,000 in reparations and reshuffle their frontiers. The drafts were placed before the world tonight.

None of these former Allies or satellites of Adolf Hitler's Germany would be allowed any submarines or bombing planes. They also would be required to guarantee fundamental human freedoms.

The treaties were prepared by the United States, Great Britain, Russia and France. These four major powers will make the final decision on ending a state of war with the five former axis countries after the peace conference which opened here Monday has considered the drafts in an advisory capacity.

Dispute Over Danube
The 286 pages of draft treaties published here revealed the disagreements as well as the agreements of the recent sessions of the four-power foreign ministers council.

A major point of disagreement centered on the future of the Danube waterway—a question having an important bearing on the economy of all of central Europe.

Russia flatly refused at the foreign ministers council to have the Danube question brought before the peace conference. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov balked at a British-United States proposal to include in the treaties for Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria a clause guaranteeing "entire equality" of navigation on the Danube to all states. Further Molotov rejected a British proposal for a conference of all "interested states" to set up a new permanent international regime for the Danube to succeed the body set up in 1921 under the Versailles treaty.

Other disagreements were:

1—The Italian-Yugoslav frontier in which the United States asked for a more liberal deal for Italy. In connection with this question the ministers agreed to internationalize Trieste, claimed by both Italy and Yugoslavia.

2—Economic access to the Balkans in which Russia asked special privileges for neighboring countries, of which she is one, instead of equal trade provisions for all the United Nations.

3—Balkan indemnities in which Russia objected to allowing the United States, Britain and France to seize Balkan assets abroad to meet claims. Russia also proposed one-third rather than full compensation to citizens of the various United Nations for losses sustained in defeated Balkan countries.

In the political field four of the treaties provided for completion of measures suppressing Fascism and anti-Allied activities. Italy was exempted from this clause, and her treaty expressly recognized that she had overthrown her Fascist regime. But she as well as the others was charged to maintain democracy.

Under the drafts Italy would

Governor Leading Two Opponents In Arkansas Election

Little Rock, July 30 (AP)—Governor Ben Laney forged far ahead of his two opponents tonight in early returns from Arkansas' presidential state primary, obtaining 28,570 votes from 591 of the state's 2,093 precincts.

His principal challenger for a second term, J. M. Malone, former county judge, had 13,782 votes and the third contender, Virgil Greene, Blytheville attorney had 4,421.

Nathan Gordon, 30-year-old Morrilton Navy Congressional Medal of Honor winner, took a substantial lead in the race for lieutenant governor over two opponents with 5908 votes in 159 precincts. Roy Milum, Harrison, dean of the state senate, had 3001, and K. T. Sutton, Helena attorney had 416.

J. Oscar Humphrey, veteran state auditor, was far in front of his two opponents with 6,756 votes in 159 precincts. Mayor R. C. Surridge, Walnut Ridge had 1759 and R. W. Tyner, Little Rock carter, 840.

Officials Deny Any Army Goods Lost In Detroit Warehouse

Detroit, July 30 (AP)—Government warehouse officials today denied charges made by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) in Washington that 39,000 boxes containing unidentified army ordnance were "lost" in a Detroit warehouse.

Ferguson told the Senate's Mead was investigating committee that these boxes have been idle for an undetermined length of time while the government paid $14,304 rent for 60,000 square feet of storage space. No one knows what was in them, Ferguson added.

Carl F. Stuedel, general manager of the warehouse, declared that only about 5 per cent of the boxes did not check with lists and added:

"I don't know how they arrived at their figures and if somebody says that this stuff is unidentified he is off the beam."

Free Automobiles For War Amputees Blocked In House

Washington, July 30 (AP)—Rep. Whittington (D-Miss.) today blocked House consideration of a bill to provide free automobiles for veterans with leg amputations—and met a storm of protests from veterans themselves.

The bill was called up by Chairman Rankin (D-Miss.) of the veterans committee under procedure requiring unanimous consent, and Whittington objected.

Whittington told a group of the veterans later he had objected because he opposes dealing with veterans in "piecemeal" manner and that no such legislation should be passed until "a further and thorough investigation" of the needs has been made.

Action Is Started To Evict Jackson At Warden's Home

Lansing, July 30 (AP)—The state started proceedings in Jackson today to evict former Warden Harry H. Jackson of the state prison of southern Michigan, from the state owned warden's home.

Assistant Attorney General John Bradshaw filed the proceedings against the former warden who, the state said, had violated several agreements to vacate the property earlier.

Jackson was dismissed as warden by the state civil service commission after Attorney General John R. Dethmers had filed charges against him of failure to perform his duties.

Navy V-12 Training Status Checked In New Draft Orders

Lansing, July 30 (AP)—An interpretation of new draft regulations to determine whether V-12 navy training courses are defined as active service is being sought by the state selective service headquarters.

Col. Glenn B. Arnold, deputy state director, said the regulations provide that men discharged after less than six months of service may be called back and specified that time spent in college is not to be considered active duty.

New Houghton Tech Gym To Be Named For Prof. Sherman

Houghton, Mich., July 29 (AP)—A new $450,000 gymnasium at Michigan College of Mining and Technology will be named for Prof. Donald P. Sherman, connected with the college in athletics from 1929 until his death last May.

College officials, announcing this today, said construction would begin by Sept. 15. The gym will be erected on Engineers' field and also will contain a swimming pool.

Sherman, who came here from Munising high school, starred in football at Battle Creek high school and later at Wabash college, Crawfordsville, Ind.

He was credited with developing an extensive sports program at Michigan Tech, as well as promoting a wide interest in outdoor sports throughout the Upper Peninsula.

The investment in streetcar, trackless-trolley and bus systems in the United States totals more than $4,250,000,000.

FOUR POWERS PUT PACTS TO VOTE IN PARIS

suffer the greatest loss of territory. Treaties with Germany and Japan will not be considered until the Allies deem those countries ready for full self government.

Washington, July 30. (AP)—Salient provisions of the five peace treaty drafts proposed to the Paris conference by the United States, Russia, Britain and France:

- ITALY
1. Loses Trieste to internationalization, minor areas to Yugoslavia and minor areas to France; also the Dodecanese Islands to Greece.
 2. Loses her territorial possessions in Africa—Libya, Eritrea and Somaliland, though she will continue to administer them for 12 months while the big-four decides their disposition.
 3. Recognizes full independence of Albania and Ethiopia, and renounces her special rights in China.
 4. Gives up all permanent frontier fortifications as well as fortifications on islands of Pantellaria, Lampedusa, Lamplone, Linosa and Pianosa.
 5. Limits navy to two battleships, four cruisers, four destroyers, 16 torpedo boats, 20 corvettes and minor vessels with total strength of 22,500 officers and men and tonnage limit of 67,500 excluding battleships.
 6. Limits army (185,000) and police force (65,000) to total strength of 250,000 officers and men, not more than 200 tanks and no long-range weapons such as guided missiles or rockets.
 7. Limits air force to 25,000 men, 200 fighter and reconnaissance planes and 150 non-combat types.
 8. Wins unqualified promise of withdrawal of Allied (U. S. and British) troops 90 days after treaty becomes effective.
 9. Agrees to pay Russia $100,000,000 reparations, with reparations for other Allies still in disagreement.

Chief disagreement remaining over Italian treaty concerns exact boundaries for Trieste and details of permanent Trieste government.

BULGARIA

1. Agrees to maintain all political and religious freedoms and suppress Fascist activities.
2. Accepts army limitation of 55,000 troops; anti-aircraft force of 1,800; navy of 3,500 with tonnage of 7,250; air force of 90 planes (70 combat) and strength of 5,200 officers and men.
3. Wins unqualified promise that all Allied (Russian) occupation troops will be withdrawn in 90 days after treaty becomes effective.
4. Must make reparation to Yugoslavia and Greece for losses caused them during the war.

Chief points left in disagreement among the great powers over the Bulgarian treaty are those concerned with economic provisions.

In general, Russia, with great direct interests in Bulgaria, takes a more lenient line than the western powers.

ROMANIA

1. Regains Transylvania from Hungary; loses Bessarabia to Russia.
2. Makes same promises as Bulgaria respecting internal freedoms and renunciation of Fascism.
3. Agrees to restrict frontier defenses: army of 120,000; anti-aircraft force of 5,000; navy of 5,000 men and 15,000 tons; air force of 8,000 men and 150 planes (including 100 combat types.)
4. Wins conditional promise of withdrawal of Russian occupation forces, condition being that Russia may maintain forces there as needed to guard communications to Austria.
5. Agrees to pay Russia reparations of $300,000,000 in commodities.

Principal points still in disagreement among the powers are those governing economic arrangements for Romania, and clauses relating to freedom of navigation on the Danube, with Russia opposing inclusion of free navigation provisions in the peace treaty.

HUNGARY

1. Agrees to revision of boundaries to pre-war lines, including return of rich Transylvania area to Romania.
2. Makes standard promise respecting internal freedoms and renunciation of Fascism.
3. Agrees to army strength of 65,000 plus air force of 5,000 men and 90 planes (70 combat).
4. Wins conditional promise of Russian troop withdrawals, condition being that Russians may keep troops there to guard lines to Austria.

Chiefly in disagreement are economic clauses, including Danube navigation provisions.

Disagreement also impends over a section committing Hungary to pay $300,000,000 reparations to Russia, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia. The United States has virtually served notice of intent to reopen this issue because of economic "chaos" in Hungary.

FINLAND

1. Loses province of Petsamo to Russia; confirms Soviet naval base on Hango Peninsula.
2. Makes standard promises respecting internal freedoms and Fascism.
3. Agrees to army of 34,000; navy of 4,500 men and 19,000 tons; air force of 3,000 men and 60 planes.
4. Agrees to pay Russia reparations in commodities totaling $300,000,000.

Mainly in disagreement still are details of commercial provisions.

RACE DRIVER DEAD

Indianapolis, July 30. (AP)—Don Turner, 34, Lexington, Ky., died in City hospital tonight of injuries suffered last Friday when his racing car turned over during a race at the fairgrounds at Franklin.

Missing Americans Released By Russia

Berlin, Wednesday, July 31 (AP)—Russian authorities today released Capt. Harold Cobin of New York City and Lt. George Wyatt of Oklahoma City who had vanished July 4 on an unauthorized trip into the Soviet occupation zone.

Maj. Gen. Walter A. Keating, American commander in Berlin, said emphatically that the release of the two officers did not involve any exchange of detainees.

In that respect their case differed from that of an American warrent officer and his wife who were freed by Soviet officials in return for the release by U. S. army authorities of three Russians picked up in the American zone on suspicion of espionage.

French And Soviets Urged To Join In Reich Merger Move

BY RICHARD KANISCHKE

Berlin, July 30 (AP)—The Americans and British announced today in the allied control council that they were proceeding with the economic merger of their zones of Germany and pleaded again with the French and Russians to join them to effect economic unity of all four zones.

The French said they were not ready to reply to the offer of Gen. Joseph T. McNamery to merge the American zone with any or all of the other zones.

The Russians said flatly they "doubted the wisdom" of the American proposal and, while claiming they supported the "economic and political unity of Germany as a whole," they proposed expediting international trade and transport on something less than an economic unity basis.

Party Whip Leads For Bankhead Seat At Alabama Polls

(By The Associated Press)

Birmingham, Ala., July 30 (AP)—Rep. John Sparkman, party whip in the House, ran far ahead of four opponents for the Senate seat of the late John H. Bankhead in incomplete returns from today's Democratic primary, and flirted with a clear majority over the field.

The 46-year-old Huntsville congressman, endorsed by the CIO-PAC but showing the most strength in the north Alabama rural areas of his home district, increased his lead with each new vote tabulation.

With returns from 1,277 of the state's 2,360 boxes tabulated, the count stood:

Sparkman 59,447; State Senator James A. Simpson, Birmingham, 32,307; Rep. Frank Boykin of Mobile, 25,010; Ted Allen, Union Springs, 680, and Thomas H. Maxwell, Tuscaloosa, 399.

Youth Badly Hurt By Shotgun Blast In Tavern Cellar

Port Huron, Mich., July 30 (AP)—A youth identified by police as Carl Port, 21 of (144 Boston Blvd.) Detroit was critically injured today by a shotgun blast fired by a tavern owner keeping vigil against burglars.

Police Chief Fred Snay of nearby Marysville said Port entered the Marysville inn early today and made his way to a basement where liquor is stored.

Angelo Di Stefano, 19, and Paul De Stefano, 21, nephews of the proprietor were keeping the night-vigil they had maintained since the tavern was burglarized July 14.

Paul fired a revolver at the intruder and missed. Angelo's shotgun blast struck Port in the right side and he was reported in serious condition at a Port Huron hospital.

Chief Snay said a charge of breaking and entering in the night time will be filed against Port, probably tomorrow if his condition improves.

Cost Of Motoring Mounts; Gasoline Price Takes Jump

Detroit, July 30 (AP)—Motorists dug a little deeper in their pockets today to pay for gasoline.

A price increase, announced last Saturday, went into effect. In Detroit, the price jumped to 20 cents a gallon for regular and 22 for ethyl.

Rankin Peck, executive director of the Retail Gasoline Dealers' Association of Michigan, said similar increases also went into effect elsewhere in the state.

The increase reflects a wholesale price increase in gasoline, ranging from a half cent to slightly more than a cent a gallon.

Peck had further bad news for motorists. He said a still larger increase may come later as a result of a survey now being made to determine average operating costs of retailers. An increase in these costs, he declared, would necessitate a further boost in the retail price of gasoline.

Man Kills Wife, 35, With His Shotgun In Memphis Store

Memphis, Tenn., July 30 (AP)—As horror-struck afternoon shoppers looked on, a shotgun-armed man killed his 35-year-old wife in a crowded downtown department store (Lovenstein's) today and then fell, seriously wounded, under the fire of a traffic officer's blazing pistol.

Four bystanders were wounded, one seriously.

Detective Inspector Larry Fox identified the man who fired the shotgun blast as Robert Horner, about 48. The dead woman, he said, was the slayer's wife, Gertrude, a waitress in the store.

proposal as a matter of course. Russia's support of Byrnes' full publicity proposal came as a surprise. Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov was quoted as saying that recently, there had been some "distortion" of the Soviet attitude, and that the presence of correspondents in conference sessions might correct the situation.

Responding to the welcoming address of French President Georges Bidault, Byrnes, Atlee and Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Shih-Chieh urged the delegates to seek a just peace for Europe.

Molotov was not present when Byrnes made his statement in behalf of the smaller nations, but he arrived in the chamber as the French translation was being made. He will be the first speaker tomorrow.

Labor Agents Act To Save Cherries Spoiling In Strike

Detroit, July 30 (AP)—Federal and state labor mediators intervened today in a dispute which managers said might imperil the state's $5,000,000 cherry crop at Ellsworth, Mich.

Elmer Rood, manager of the Reid-Murdoch company plant at Ellsworth, said 325 workers struck Monday to support demands for a 25 cent-an-hour wage increase and other contract demands.

He declared cherries, valued at $15,000, are in the plant's tanks and must be processed immediately to avoid spoilage. Another $5,000,000 in ripe cherry crops is not being harvested by growers in the area because of the shutdown of processing facilities, he added.

Porcupine Mountain Cabins Authorized By Parks Division

Lansing, July 30. (AP)—Accommodations will be provided for visitors at the Porcupine Mountain forest area with the construction of a number of proposed state cabins. Arthur C. Elmer, chief of the conservation department's parks division, said today.

He said the first cabin would be erected at Mirror Lake.

Approximately 3,500 persons are visiting the new state park each week.

The state flower of New Mexico is the yucca.

Justice Department To Investigate Mass Lynching In Georgia

Washington, July 30 (AP)—Attorney General Clark announced today that President Truman has expressed "horror" at the lynchings of four negroes near Monroe, Ga., and directed the justice department to investigate "with all its resources."

The federal inquiry—which Clark said is being carried on "in the tradition of the FBI"—has two aims:

1. To see whether the mob members can be arrested and prosecuted under any federal statute.
2. To assist Georgia authorities in identifying the members of the mob and prosecuting them under state laws.

Clark announced that "the entire record of our investigation will be made available to the governor of Georgia, if necessary, for proper action of Georgia civil authorities."

Clark expressed "hope for an early solution" of what he called "these shocking murders" and called upon "all our citizens to repudiate mob rule."

Increase In Sugar Allowance Unlikely Until Next Summer

Washington, July 30 (AP)—The government's top sugar officials said today that most disappointed holders of sugar ration coupons will be able to use them within a few days.

For many weeks the shortage has been so acute many have gone sugarless.

The officials said, however, it probably will be next spring or summer before the amount-per-persons can be boosted.

The information came from George Dice, head of OPA's sugar

Bark River Culvert Plant To Open New Branch In Milwaukee

Further expanding its sales and service facilities, the Bark River Culvert & Equipment company is opening a branch office and shop in Milwaukee according to a recent announcement. It will be located in the Ellsworth building, 1719 West St. Paul avenue, which the company has purchased and is remodeling.

The company now has sales and service facilities at Bark River, Eau Claire, Green Bay and Milwaukee.

A new plant is being constructed for the company in Green Bay now and will be ready for occupancy in September.

MIXUPS AROUSE TRAVELERS' IRE

Phil Rich And Partner
Are Marooned In Seattle

Editor's note: This is another of Phil Rich's articles telling about his Alaskan trip with Reardon J. Nehil. They reached Ketchikan Monday evening.

By PHIL RICH
Seattle—Ben Franklin Hotel—This could be a pet peeve story. But people out here are so friendly one cannot keep his ire up long.

It was this way: After winging in here—a 14 hour trip from Chicago—we had trouble sending a wire home. Western Union said that although it was 8:10 out here the office in Midland was closed. (11:10). The bellboy had deposited $2.10 for wires in the "automatic" but the operator would not send them until morning. So we phoned home at $1.60. The manager at WU said today this was not their "usual service" and this condition would be corrected.

Then we got up at 5 a. m. to get on the Kitchikan, Alaska, plane and someone made a mistake. Our tickets were balled up in spite of the fact that we checked in at the field last night before going to bed. So we could not make it. Pan American and Northwestern got their signals crossed and we are stuck. But we finally got back in the hotel for an "indefinite period." Then about noon Reardon phoned the office and they said to come down. Now we hold tickets for a "special flight" tomorrow at noon to Ketchikan, which is about 700 miles up the coast.

Lucky we had tickets and letters confirming everything. We're novices at air travel. But it does pay to have it in writing. We cancelled at lot of reservations and wired here and there to get things straightened out. The hotel was swell and took us back. The airlines were nice but firm: NO GO. So we sit here in Seattle for another day and a half.

On top of that my wrist watch band flew to pieces this morning.

But one could sit in worse places than Seattle. I have always liked this town. Night before last when we came in over the mountains at sunset there was a beautiful red glow in the haze as we passed the Cascades. Mt. Ranier in all its snow-capped splendor stood as Seattle's watch-dog. It's some 80 or 90 miles away but towers up in easy visibility on a clear day like today.

Last night we ate over at the Elks club. That's a great spot here and is rated as one of the best in Seattle although this small hotel is good. You can see the Olympic mountains through a couple of great glass windows. They still have snow on them and as the sun went down and added a red glow to the west we could look across the bay. It was a high grade view.

We got a cab driver to take us on a tour. We saw a lot of carriers and battleships including the aircraft carrier Essex. All are being dismantled or "decommissioned" in the harbor. We drove among the beautiful homes with rock gardens of Elliot Bay and Puget Sound and then back to 28-mile-long Lake Washington and saw the floating concrete bridge across the latter. It is beautiful country with just enough mountains to make it interesting.

Travel is terrific now. The travel agent here tells the story of a man who came up here a few days ago. He was going to Alaska via Vancouver on a Canadian line. He had come from Florida and paid $50 on his ticket. There was some mixup and he stayed in Vancouver four days and then came back here. No dice. And so he went home.

It was a boiling day—something over 90. They say here that it never gets hot—or cold—but it did today. But there is a cool breeze. The cabbie says he has geraniums all winter—they seldom freeze.

Lots of local meat coming on the market. The Queen City market on one of the main streets—Fourth—offers round steak for 55c, T-bone for 65c, veal, lamb or pork chops at 55c. This is local meat the man says and there's lots of it depending on what you like. Also a great variety of sea food ranging from giant crabs to fish, smoked or fresh.

One of the waitresses at the coffee shop at the B. Franklin wants to know if we're strangers. We admit it. She inquires where we are going. We say Alaska. She wants to know what part. "I have six brothers at Nome," she states, and lived there myself until two years ago. I'm going back. I love that country." Her name is Mrs. Ruth Martin and she wants us to look up her brother, Ralph Ulricksen, and her brother-in-law, Pete Reader, and she allows the latter will take us out fishing and for pictures. Also that Mrs. Frank Martin, an Eskimo, might make us some nice mukluks—which are Alaskan snowproof boots.

Alaska travel is heavy now. Boat service is out of the question they tell us. Air travel is packed. Fishermen are moving north for the big salmon runs and will come out in the fall. Tourists are plugging the lines.

If you can get to Alaska you can travel easily, according to Alaska Airlines, which has office in Seattle. But try to get there!!!

A pedestrian takes up only eight square feet of street space, a person riding in a streetcar or trackless-trolley coach 70 square feet and a person in an automobile 500 square feet.

Helen E. Stenson Engaged As Elementary Supervisor

Helen Elaine Stenson of Chicago has been engaged as elementary supervisor in the Escanaba public schools to succeed Mary Meighen, who resigned recently.

Miss Stenson, who was born in Trout Creek, holds a life certificate from the Western Michigan College of Education, Kalamazoo, and bachelor of science and master of arts degrees from the University of Michigan. She also did graduate work at Peabody Teachers college, Nashville, Tenn.; Teachers college, Columbia university, New York City; and the University of Chicago.

Miss Stenson has taught in rural and elementary schools of the Upper Peninsula; has been a county school supervisor, county normal principal, and critic and field supervisor for Western Michigan College of Education and Southern Illinois Normal university, Carbondale, Ill. She also served as professor in elementary education at Central Michigan College of Education, Mount Pleasant, and as director of elementary workshops for Western Illinois Teachers college, Macomb, Ill., and the University of Vermont. Last year, she was a member of the staff of the rural education workshop, University of Chicago.

She has been oftentimes a speaker at state and national meetings of educators, and was a member of the White House conference on rural education. Miss Stenson has traveled in Europe and Alaska.

KILLED IN FALL

Iron Mountain—Charles Wilhelm Lagerstedt, 50, formerly of Twin Falls, was killed at about 9 a. m. yesterday in Berwyn, Ill., when he fell backwards off a 50-foot building on which he was working. Death resulted from a skull fracture.

Mr. Lagerstedt, who was born Sept. 12, 1895, in Iron Mountain, spent his boyhood in this city. He left here in 1925 for Chicago, to do construction work. There were no details of the accident which cost him his life.

Gould City

Gould City, Mich.—Sally Cartwright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Cartwright is in Milwaukee visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chamberlain.

The town was grieved by the death of Prosper Baker. A resident of Gould City for over fifty years. He died Saturday morning at seven a. m., after suffering an illness for over two years. He leaves a widow Ella Baker, and two sons, Francis and Orrin. Funeral services will be Monday morning at ten o'clock, at the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Effie Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Larsen and daughter Mary Catherine of Wisconsin, are here for the Prosper Baker funeral. Mr. and Mrs. Herman McChesney of Munising were here visiting the Prosper Baker and Frank Cook families Friday.

Ernel Blanchard was a caller in Manistique Saturday.

X-RAY PHOTOS TAKEN AT FAIRS

Health Department Will Have Picture Unit
At Escanaba

"How about having your picture taken? It's free! Step right up to the x-ray machine and have a snapshot of your chest."

Many fair-goers in Michigan will have this opportunity as x-ray units of the Michigan Department of Health move into fair grounds. Schedules already arranged include the Gratiot county fair July 22-27; Ionia Free Fair August 5-10; Escanaba state fair the week of August 27; Saginaw county fair September 6-14; and the Branch county fair September 10-14.

It takes less than a minute to make a chest picture since persons are now x-rayed in street clothes and no time is lost dressing. Each person will receive a report on his x-ray. In event any sign of disease is found, the report will be sent to the individual's family physician.

Because early tuberculosis has no symptoms, the chest x-ray is the only way to detect the disease in the beginning when it responds best to treatment.

Child Runs Into Car, Escapes With Minor Head Injury

Auretie Ann Johnson, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold E. Johnson, 201 South 16th street, received a minor head injury Monday afternoon when she ran into the side of an automobile driven by John Froberg in the 1500 block of First avenue south.

Froberg, who lives at 1217 Eighth avenue south, was driving west on the avenue when the child, who had been playing with several other youngsters, suddenly started across the street and ran into the right side of the machine. Froberg took the child to her home, where she was later treated by a physician.

Have Kick Coming

AUSTRALIA'S representative at the Paris conference has presented the complaint of 17 small governments who want to have a real voice in the building of world peace.

The small nations do not believe that the making of the peace should be strictly the responsibility of the Big Four. While it is true that the United States, Great Britain, Russia and China bore the brunt of the task of defeating the Axis, the small nations, like Poland, Norway and Holland also fought to the best of their capabilities.

The small nations are usually the first to suffer the effects of war's devastation, and so it is not difficult to understand their intense interest in all efforts directed toward preventing future conflicts. Anyway, the big nations do not have a monopoly on peace-making ideas. It is altogether possible that some of the most worthwhile suggestions could come from those outside the Big Four.

After all, if we are to work toward that ideal of one democratic world, we must have the united efforts and cooperation of all nations. Lasting peace is not something that can be handed down by the most powerful nations. All must have a part in its making. A dictatorship of the Big Four is not likely to win the confidence of the other peoples.

Lighting and Crime

NATIONAL statistics compiled by the Street and Traffic Safety Lighting Bureau show that in some cities crime incidence drops 90 per cent when a crime area is adequately lighted.

Rape, robbery, burglary and assault are some of the worst crimes committed in dark, obscured areas. In a recent national survey made by the bureau, police authorities recommended that all alleys, store rearways and streets be properly lighted. Persons who are about to commit crimes realize that they are more apt to be observed and detected if the crime is committed in well-lighted areas. Darkness contributes to a very large extent to all predatory crimes.

In many cities reporting, some of the areas between main streets and residential sections are poorly lighted. Some towns have street lights only every fifth block, yet it is on these streets that pedestrians must walk to reach their homes. Women, especially, are easy prey for sneak thieves and pervers in such locations.

Poor visibility after dark accounts for over 75 per cent of the steadily mounting toll of traffic deaths. Traffic fatalities at night are twice those in daylight in spite of the fact that night traffic volume is one-third that of daytime.

Escanaba's principal streets, like Ludington, Stephenson and 10th street, are well-lighted, but there are many in the residential sections that are as dark as a country lane. In our postwar development program, it would be advisable to consider the improvement of residential street lighting.

Polio in Minneapolis

THE idea that an infantile paralysis epidemic could possibly revisit the Upper Peninsula is not so far-fetched, after all, for the nearby city of Minneapolis has been hard hit by the dreaded disease.

An Associated Press report states that 172 persons have been stricken with polio since July 1 and 12 deaths have occurred. One of the school buildings has been converted into a hospital for the special treatment of victims.

The Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation, located in Minneapolis, has distributed bulletins to every home in the Twin Cities to warn the people of the precautions that should be taken. The bulletin lists the following symptoms: headache, fever, stiff neck, stiff back, nausea and vomiting, painful limbs and weakness. It also advises that if a child has these symptoms, a doctor should be called promptly. The same advice should be followed here during the current polio season.

Another Tourist Magnet

MORE than 20,000 tourists have visited the Porcupine Mountains State Park already this season to view the scenic Lake of the Clouds and to fish in the lakes and streams in the area.

The proposal to establish a state park in the Porcupine mountains near Ontonagon encountered much opposition, particularly from private lumbering interests who wanted to log off the timber. But had the timber been removed, the Porcupine mountains would have lost their wilderness aspect.

The number of wilderness areas remaining in the Upper Peninsula can be counted on the fingers of one hand. Saving of the Porcupine Mountains from despoliation will bring dividends to the people of the western portion of the Upper Peninsula for countless generations. The tourist industry will increase its importance to the economic life of the region as its lumbering declines. Those who have had the vision and courage to battle for the preservation of the Porcupine Mountains as a tourist asset are to be commended for their efforts.

Death for Killers

THE death penalty has been demanded by Justice Robert H. Jackson for 22 Nazi leaders who are on trial at Nuernberg on charges of conspiring to wage aggressive war.

In the group is Marshal Herman Goerring, who throughout the rise of Nazism in Germany, was close to the arch-conspirator, Adolf Hitler, who is believed to have taken the coward's way out of his dilemma by committing suicide as the Allies were taking Berlin. Others also were high-up in Nazi circles.

The defendants have been responsible for more deaths and suffering than they will ever be able to atone for. Their execution may serve the purpose, however, of discouraging others from plotting to gain world mastery.

It is to be hoped most of all that the German people will regard them as criminals, not as martyrs to what they may think was a noble cause. Twice within a quarter century, the German people were led into futile wars for conquest of Europe and the world. If they have not learned yet that they followed false leaders, there is not much hope for them.

KEEPING THE CELLAR DRY (Detroit News)

The United States Bureau of Standards has looked into and exploded the claim that a coat of a new "magic paint" will keep a damp basement forever dry. Dealing with a customer now conditioned to believe in any asserted miracle, from planet-cracking atomic power down to DDT, the bug-killer, the unscrupulous peddler must be sorely tempted to try the public's credulity. He can hardly miss. Today's skeptic scarcely knows what to disbelieve.

For a permanently dry cellar, the home builder has only to settle in Tocapilla, Chile, where in some 90 years of recorded weather less than one inch of rain has fallen. If, however, he must inhabit these parts, he may be up against it. Certainly the tightness of cellar walls is no assurance against damp; there is still the factor of condensation. And wherever there is a drain in the cellar floor it means a possible entry for storm water backing up from an overloaded sewer.

The thoughtful victim will not attempt to plug this with the end of a broomhandle; his cellar floor can be lifted and buckled that way. More sensible would be to fit a hose connection to the drain in advance and detour the geyser out through a basement door or window. However, as these cloudbursts commonly occur in the vacation season, the householder may well be several states away. Smartest of all, perhaps, is simply to move the cellar up to the first floor as in the ranch home, and—contrary to the Good Book's exhortation—to erect the whole thing on a good loose quality of sand.

WESTWARD THE COURSE— (St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

In what ought to herald a widespread trend, the General Motors Corp. has moved its top operating office from New York to Detroit, where its manufacturing business has always been centered. It is a move long overdue and one that should result in better labor relations, better public relations and a more efficient business operation.

General Motors' policy deserves emulation. There is no real reason why the home office of U. S. Steel should not be in Pittsburgh, or that of Anaconda Copper in Butte, or that of Freeport Sulphur in Freeport, Tex. And so on for several score of big corporations.

If this should happen, there would be fewer interlocking directorates and more directors who would direct. There would be more industrial competition and fewer deals to stifle it. The gravitation of capital to the East would be, perhaps, not eliminated, but at least retarded.

Westward the course of business empire should take its way. Anteus drew strength to wrestle Hercules as long as he kept his feet in touch with Mother Earth. Business giants can draw strength by living in close touch with the areas from which they draw their raw materials and with the people by whose labor these materials are converted to the uses of commerce.

The Ohio couple married atop a 176-foot pole, did as all other newlyweds do—came right down to earth.

Who started the curious belief that break-of-dawn is the best time to mow the lawn?

The line now forms to the right, to the left, around the corner and down the street.

Among the things usually forgotten at a picnic is to burn the rubbish and put out the fire.

The milk of human kindness should always be Grade A.

Washington—The bounteous American earth is giving forth again with a record harvest and the world's hunger is being eased. This newest miracle, after five years of bumper crops, is more good fortune than we are entitled to expect.

What this nation has done, despite confusion and conflict both in Washington and in the country, is truly remarkable. A total of 400,000,000 bushels of grain was shipped to Europe and Asia in the year ending June 30. But while we can take pride in this record, with the honors going chiefly to the farmers who sweated out record yields of wheat and corn, we should remember that there are still vast populations on the edge of starvation. There is a long road ahead before anything like the pre-war food level is achieved. Members of an unofficial famine mission to India have just returned to this country. They found comparatively little evidence of malnutrition and almost no famine.

—FAILURE IN BENGAL— This, however, is because a rigid rationing system distributes all available food efficiently and effectively. Bengal province, where the government has failed to do an effective job, is a big exception. The order and discipline that prevailed elsewhere deeply impressed the Americans who toured the country by plane from one end to the other.

The ration is 12 ounces, or approximately 1200 calories for adults, and six ounces for children under eight. This is just enough to sustain life. That is what is so important for us to realize here—that any breakdown in the rationing system would be likely to plunge the whole country into chaos.

The famine mission found a gap of 750,000 tons in India's supply from the outside for the crisis months of September, October and November. The government of India has money available to buy the grain but whether grain will be forthcoming is a question.

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson told members of the mission, when they conferred with him, that 500,000 tons were in sight. Somehow, we in this country must find a way to ship that extra 250,000 tons. This is the only source from which it can come. Moreover, Herbert Hoover wired Anderson that the mission's estimate was a conservative one.

—HOOVER MADE IMPRESSION— Members of the mission found in India that Hoover's visit there had had a beneficial effect. It convinced Indian officials, who for so long have lived with the arithmetic of gnawing bellies, that there was real concern in this country over their plight.

Another hunger problem looms on tomorrow's horizon. UNRRA relief to Europe ends this year. The jobs of international relief UNRRA has been doing will not be completed by that time. Responsible men in high office are wondering what is to take its place.

Besides the humanitarian consideration, this was a major political meaning. UNRRA Director Fiorello H. La Guardia said in Rome the other day that Italy would need help after January 1.

The political situation in Italy is far from stable. Resentment and bitterness over the peace settlement are reported widespread. A new hunger wave instantly would be exploited by Communists, who would welcome the chance to make political capital.

Congress is departing without taking any action on this all-important question. When a new Congress returns in January, international relief will be one of the problems waiting on the doorstep. Just before he left for Paris, a delegation representing a number of large organizations in this country called on Assistant Secretary of State Will Clayton, asking him to take the necessary steps. It would seem, however, that the need is so great that only congress can provide a solution.

Thanks to the bumper crop beginning to flow from the combines in the west, the price of grain is dropping. This means that governments will be able to buy it and that it will begin moving overseas.

If productivity in the shop could match productivity on the farm, much of the confusion and conflict would be resolved. America's true strength, the vitality of our system, would be made evident to all the world.

the people in the back row of the gallery, forgetting the far greater radio audience, is all but irresistible. But in these electronic days, when practically all places of human gatherings are wired for sound, one's speech should be tempered—the loudspeakers (amplifiers) furnish all the volume that is necessary.

Enunciation, unusually good. He speaks forward—on the lips—and his delivery is rapid, at times approaching the staccato. Style, too hammer-and-tongs for easy listening. Again, this is the result of long years of rough and tumble public debates on controversial questions. The radio likes a more restrained, less emotional style of speech, for, as I have pointed out before, the radio audience is not made up of large crowds to be swayed by mass psychology. The radio audience consists of very small units—one, two, or three listeners to the individual receiving set.

Pronunciation, careless, and rather inaccurate. Mr. Reuther, therefore, is under a disadvantage when debating with more urbane speakers. On the Town Meeting broadcast checked for this article, such pronunciations as these are noted: "in-ISH-uh-tiv" for initiative; "EE-shoo" for issue; "pree-pose" for propose; "guy-uh-munt" for government, etc.

Score: Voice, 15; enunciation, 25; style, 10; pronunciation, 10. Total, 60. Rating, fair.

Next week Pat O'Brien. Your nominations are invited.

Edson's Views

By Peter Edson

ON VACATION

Clint Dunathan is taking his vacation, and during his absence a daily article by Peter Edson, NEA correspondent in Washington, will appear in this column.

Washington, (NEA)—Congressmen running for re-election this year are afraid of what New York Sen. James M. Mead's committee expose of the Garsson brothers' goings-on may do to them now and in November.

For years the Republicans have been looking for a "Democratic Teapot Dome Scandal." This may be it. Heap it onto the 51 per cent Republican majority reported in the last Gallup poll and you have the making of a good old-fashioned political rout.

A few congressmen are inclined to feel that the lightning has struck already. They point to the fact that up to the time the Garsson investigation began, there had been less than half a dozen political upsets in nearly 200 primary contests. Defeat of that many congressmen running for re-election is politically negligible.

But in the recent Georgia primary four of the incumbents were knocked out, and in the Oklahoma primary three more stalwarts bit the dust. To some political dopesters, this is the handwriting of doom upon the walls of the temple.

The test as to whether or not this is a revolt will come in ensuing Southern primaries. If a number of the incumbent congressmen are unseated in these primaries, they may be able to blame part of their troubles on the Mead expose.

Involves Little Money

Financially, the amounts involved in the Garsson case are very small, compared with the total volume of war contracts. Garsson's 19 companies got only 73 million dollars' worth of business. Stack that up against General Motors' 138 billion dollars' worth of war contracts and it means little.

There were over 10,000 war-fraud cases prosecuted by the Department of Justice while the fighting was going on. They scarcely caused a ripple of public interest.

Even the indictment against Congressman James M. Curley of Boston for his connection with the Engineers Group, Inc., war-contracts brokerage racket caused no such national uprising of wrath as has the Garsson case.

The thing that makes the Garsson expose such political dynamite is the fact that it is so human. In and out of the witness chair moves a parade of characters right out of something by Rip Lardner.

Benjamin Franklin Field, "Doctor" Henry M. Garsson and his brother Murray, Joe Weiss, Al Jacobson. A couple of good-looking stenographers. Press agents and photographers.

Parties are held at New York's Hotel Pierre. Gals drape their arms about a fat, bald congressman. Over-stuffed generals dance with brides.

The timing is perfect. It comes just at the psychological moment when the people may be looking for someone to blame for all their woes. The first convenient goats for this political Bikini may be the candidates up for re-election to Congress.

Senator Mead is making a lot of political hay for himself by this exposure, after a slow and undramatic start as successor to Harry Truman at the head of the War Investigating Committee. If the general resentment against the "Ins" which this Garsson probe had stirred up should react in such a way as to include Senator Mead among the "Outs," that would be the unkindest cut of all.

Q. If a veteran is following a course of vocational rehabilitation, how much vacation may he receive during that period of training?

A. He may be granted a leave of absence not in excess of 30 days in any consecutive twelve months.

Q. May a veteran's wife be buried in a national cemetery?

A. Yes; burial in a national cemetery may be arranged for the wife of a veteran, or his widow, under certain conditions, also for minor children or unmarried adult daughters or an honorably discharged veteran.

Q. Why are the President's guards Secret Service men from the Treasury Department instead of G-men from the Federal Bureau of Investigation?

A. Because the law delegating to the Secret Service Division the duty of guarding the President was passed some time before the Intelligence Bureau of the Department of Justice, now the FBI, had attained its present size and importance.

Q. Please give me the proportions of the materials to be used in making sand tarts. I remember the ingredients but not how much of each to use.

A. Cream together one cup butter, 1 teaspoon water and 2 cups flour. Add 1 cup chopped nuts, 3 tablespoons sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla. With the fingers, shape into small balls. Place on a baking sheet and bake 15 minutes in a moderate oven (325 degrees F.). Roll in confectioners' sugar and place in covered cookie jar. These are best when made the day before you wish to serve them. The recipe makes from 30 to 40 cookies.

Q. When was the first telephone installed in the White House?

A. The exact date is not known. The first telephone switchboard in Washington, D. C., was installed December 1, 1878, and the White House was one of the first subscribers.

Q. What does "begging the question" mean?

A. "Petitio principii" or "begging the question" is a term in logic for a fallacy in which a premise is assumed to be true without warrant, or in which the very thing to be proved is implicitly taken for granted.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Paris—One year ago, Jimmie Byrnes, newly appointed Secretary of State, was one of the cockiest men in Washington. Bustling back and forth between the state department and the White House he gave the impression of complete confidence in his own ability to unravel the tangled state of the world.

Today, James F. Byrnes is a visibly older and wiser man. His air of cocksureness is gone. He is tired and his health is not too good. His gracious South Carolina charm is just as contagious as ever, but sometimes his buoyant spirit lags and it is easy to see that the past year has taken its toll on Jimmie Byrnes.

The past year has seen Jimmie take five gruelling air trips to Europe, attend five crucial conferences on which depended the peace of the world. No wonder Jimmie is tired.

The past year has also seen Byrnes experience two slight tiffs with his boss in the White House and some extremely unpleasant rows with his old sparring partner, M. Molotov. Once they came nearer blows than ever leaked out to the papers.

It began all in fun. Byrnes was attending a diplomatic tea at the American embassy in Paris, was in jovial mood, and started to poke with Molotov by playfully wrestling with him. The Russian, also in good humor, at first pretended to spar back. Then Byrnes, pilot of American destinies at the peace conference, by accident, slipped his hand in Molotov's inside breast pocket. The Soviet foreign minister stiffened with anger, grabbed Byrnes' hand. At first, it was embarrassing. Then Molotov, realizing it was all in fun, took out his handkerchief and waved it above his head as if in surrender.

—BYRNES GROWS IN STATURE—

Despite the discouragement of the past year, however, despite our stumbling progress toward peace, despite the ups and downs of Jimmie's diplomacy, the fact remains that Byrnes has become an increasingly effective secretary of state. He has grown with the months. Despite his critics on Capitol Hill, Byrnes is running a far more efficient state department than his old friend, Cordell Hull, did. And his successes abroad must be measured not merely in achievements but in relation to the obstacles in his path.

It is true that Jimmie Byrnes has learned to be a good secretary of state at the expense of the nation. But it is also true that he has so far outstripped his predecessors in intelligent handling of foreign affairs that his lessons in diplomacy are a good investment. It is a pity they could not have started sooner.

Byrnes began at the London foreign ministers conference last September by being vigorously anti-Russian. Repeatedly he and Molotov were at odds. At one point when Byrnes proposed discussing the Dardanelles, Molotov countered: "Now we will discuss the Panama Canal."

"That's none of your damn business," exploded the American secretary of state.

—NOT ANTI-RUSSIAN—

After London, however, Byrnes came to the sober conclusion that the United States must lean over backward to get along with Russia. So a few weeks later he went to Moscow, taking with him only advisers sympathetic to Russia. For days he labored with Stalin and Molotov, did his best to get along.

At one conference, lasting until 2 a. m., Byrnes pleaded with Stalin to realize that the American people had no quarrel with Russia, that their greatest ambition was to remain permanent friends. In the end, Byrnes found himself doing most of compromising. The Russians yielded little.

Since then, Byrnes gradually and reluctantly has come round to the opinion that the Russians don't want to play ball with the U. S. A., that they deliberately keep their people stirred up over the phantom threat of war with the outside world. To quiet unrest, to preserve unity at home, the Kremlin figures such a policy is necessary.

Yet Byrnes is not anti-Russian. Despite his vigorous tiffs with Molotov, those who have watched him on the inside know that he is severely anxious to cooperate.

When he was war mobilizer, Byrnes brought down the ax on 72 heavy warships proposed by Adm. Ernie King for construction after the war. The only nation they could be aimed against was Russia, and Byrnes emphatically said they could not be built.

Later he aroused the resentment of U. S. army-navy chiefs by ceding the Kurile islands to Russia, though they had been captured by the U. S. A. Byrnes, however, thought it would improve U. S.-U. S. S. R. relations if Russia got them.

But finally Byrnes concluded that the more he appeased Russia, the more it demanded appeasement and that the chief thing Molotov understands is firmness.

MOVIES TO BE SEEN AT FAIR

Conservation Dept. and Other Agencies Will Give Free Shows

Activities of the Michigan conservation department and the U. S. Forest Service will be portrayed in a series of interesting exhibits at the Upper Peninsula State Fair to be held in Escanaba the week of Aug. 27.

The conservation department will set up a studio in the front ante-room of the main exhibition building for the showing of movies of the U. P. Development Bureau, Forest Service and other agencies. There will be a continuous program from 11 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Other exhibits will be placed in the same room. The Forest Service will have a display of pictures, showing blister rust control and other conservation work. Pictures of the outdoors also will be exhibited by the Development Bureau.

The conservation department again will have its aquarium, housed in a rustic cabin and showing all the various fish of the region. Another unusual display will be "The Tower of Light", which was first seen at A Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago and later shown at the Detroit State Fair.

Outside the exhibition building the Forest Service will have a miniature replica of the Clear Lake organization camp, located near Shingletown.

County Clerks To Meet In Iron Mt.

Reservations for more than a 100 persons have been made for the 38th annual convention of the Michigan Association of County Clerks to be held in Iron Mountain Aug. 7 to 9.

Expected to attend the meeting are Merle E. Shell, Gladwin, county president; Raymond L. Dankers, Saginaw county, treasurer; and John Hagman, Livingston county, treasurer.

Don Smith, secretary of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Chamber of Commerce, will speak on "Experiences in the Hudson Bay Country," on the opening day. Gerald Malone, known professionally as "The Great Malone," will give a program of hypnotism at the banquet. A trip through the Ford Motor company plant, golf and other entertainment features are on the three-day program.

Felonious Driving Case Continued; 8 Witnesses Testify

Justice of the Peace Henry Ranguette yesterday continued the case of Thomas J. Young, 36-year-old Green Bay man charged with felonious driving, until the testimony of eight witnesses who were called Tuesday is transcribed.

Young was driving a light panel truck which collided with a coach driven by Charles Woods of Flint on highway U. S. 2-41 just north of the city early on the evening of July 12. Woods' two young children were seriously injured in the accident, his wife and himself less seriously.

The Green Bay man was originally charged with driving while under the influence of liquor but entered a plea of not guilty to that and to the more serious charge of felonious driving, when arraigned.

Young has been in the county jail here since the time of the accident.

Bicyclist Escapes Serious Injury In Collision With Cab

Frank Drake, 616 South Tenth street, was slightly injured late Monday night when the bicycle he was riding collided with an Escanaba Taxi company cab near the intersection of Second street and Ludington.

Bernard Bougie, 1119 First avenue south, driver of the cab, reported the accident and said that he was backing the taxi from the House of Ludington to the intersection at Second street and had stopped to permit several pedestrians to pass the crosswalk when Drake's bike struck the rear of the cab.

Bougie took Drake to St. Francis hospital for first aid treatment of his bruises.

Traunik Girl Is Fatally Hurt In Fall From Truck

Marquette—Losing her balance and falling from her father's truck as she reached for a spray of sugar plums from a roadside tree, Joyce Ellen Atherton, 12, Traunik, was killed at 10 Sunday morning in Sands township. Death was caused by a skull fracture.

Joyce Ellen was riding in the rear of the truck with her sister, Doris, 14. Her father, Delbert Atherton, was driving. In the cab with him was his son, Delbert, Jr. The truck was being driven along an abandoned rail bed, which is being used as a car trail, and trees and shrubbery crowd closely upon it at several places. It was while reaching for a branch of wild fruit from one of these trees that the girl lost her balance and fell.

The accident was investigated by the state police of the Marquette post and Coroner Marvin Fassbender.

The girl is survived by her parents; four sisters, Mrs. Louis Yokeum, Munising; Mrs. Alcid Morin, Munising; Mrs. James Tweedale, Escanaba, and Doris, at home and three brothers, Kimball, Charles and Delbert, Jr.

Parents To Visit Girl Scout Camp Thursday Night

Girls attending the Girl Scout Day Camp at the Escanaba Ski Park will entertain their parents tomorrow evening at a huge campfire program that will bring to a close the first week of the camp. The Escanaba Girl Scout council extends a cordial invitation to all parents of girls attending and all interested persons to attend this event. On Thursday the girls attending Day Camp will have their evening meal at the site instead of the noon meal, and the program for parents will begin at 7 o'clock.

The Day Camp, sponsored jointly by the Escanaba Girl Scouts and the City Recreation department, is a new innovation in camping in the Escanaba area. It is a camping program that permits the girls to be home each night, and gives girls between the ages of 7 and 14 an outdoor experience that is both educational and enjoyable.

Many girls who registered for the first week are now registering for the second week. The Day Camp is proving a most successful undertaking, and will become a permanent summer activity, enlarging facilities to accommodate more girls each year. Registrations this year were open to any girl in Escanaba who wished to attend.

Andrew M. Reilly of Hartford, Conn., announces the engagement and approaching marriage of his daughter, Florence Margaret, to Lt. Charles Manson Thatcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver V. Thatcher, 618 Lake Shore Drive.

The wedding will take place on Saturday evening, August 10, at 7 o'clock in the main chapel at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md.

Jane E. Starke, P. J. Fitzharris Wed In Milwaukee

St. John's cathedral in Milwaukee was the scene of a wedding on Saturday which united in marriage Miss Jane Ellen Starke, daughter of Mrs. Conrad G. Starke, of that city, and Patrick J. Fitzharris, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzharris of Escanaba. The couple exchanged vows at an 11:45 a. m. nuptial mass.

The bride wore an eggshell satin gown, fashioned from material which the bridegroom brought from China, where he was stationed while in the navy. The dress featured a sweetheart neckline and a bouffant skirt, extending in a train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a ruching of net trimmed with orange blossoms. Gardenias, stephanotis and gladioli comprised her bouquet.

The maid of honor, Miss Irene Kisch, and the bridesmaid, Miss Jean Ball, wore gowns of powder blue embroidered marquisette. Matching gladioli on a velvet ribbon were their headpieces. They carried sheaves of mixed white flowers.

Jack Fitzharris, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Ernest McGuire ushered. The wedding breakfast and reception were held at the Astor hotel. The young couple are on a honeymoon in Canada.

Compressed yeast, though convenient to use may spoil rapidly unless it is kept under refrigeration.

Keep Bread Fresh In Refrigerator

Bread is a precious commodity today. We cannot waste a crumb. Here are good hints for preventing waste, supplied by Julia Kiene of the Westinghouse Home Economics Institute.

One of the best places to store bread is in your refrigerator. In the refrigerator, the bread stays moist much longer, as long as two weeks. And, of course, it will not mold there. Throw away any moldy bread. It is not safe to eat.

Another way to keep bread fresh is to store it in a clean, dry bread-box which provides ample air circulation. The circulation reduces the danger of its becoming moldy during the hot summer months. Scald the bread-box at least once a week, after which place it in a sunny spot for two to three hours.

Stale bread may be freshened to the point where it tastes almost

Helen Cloutier Wins Prize For Fiction Writing

Helen Cloutier, 609 Third Avenue south, who has been attending the Midwest Writers conference at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., for the past week, received one of the prizes which were awarded at the conclusion of the conference. Mrs. Cloutier's short story received one of three awards given by the North Shore Creative Writers.

Mrs. Cloutier also won an award last year at the conference. Entries in this year's competition included work by the 1500 writers attending the conference, as well as work submitted by writers throughout the country.

Members of the faculty this year included such well-known writers as Mary Hastings Bradley, Nancy Rutledge, mystery story writer, Dorothy Baker, who wrote "Young Man With a Horn," and "Trio," and Prof. Frederic Nelson Litten, member of the Northwestern University faculty who formerly taught at the Nahma Vacation school.

College To Give 3-Weeks Course At Junior High

like freshly-baked bread. To freshen it, use a double-boiler, a steamer, or even a brown paper bag, if the other utensils are not available.

Take a section of a loaf, or single slices, and place in a double-boiler or regular steamer and set over rapidly boiling water. Cover closely. Steam for a 3 to 5 minute period.

Or put the bread in a paper bag, sprinkle the bag lightly with warm water, close it tightly, and place it in an oven at 350 degrees F. for 10 to 15 minutes.

GIRL LOST IN WOODS

Iron River—Badly bitten by insects, tired and hungry, Janet Wilcke, seven-year-old daughter of Mrs. Daisy Wilcke, Chicago, was found at 10 Saturday morning after being lost for 16 hours in the woods near the farm home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis King, Gibbs City road.

The child was found by John Chriske, conservation officer, who was one of some 100 men who helped in the long search.

Returned to the home of her grandparents, the girl greeted her mother, who had waited anxiously for word from the searchers, and then sat down to a breakfast of cereals, three eggs, toast and milk. Mrs. Wilcke arrived here Friday from Chicago to visit her parents, the Kings.

GETS HIGH POSITION

Calumet—Word has been received by Edward McCormack of Calumet that his son M. J. McCormack, formerly a Lieutenant Colonel with the Army Air Corps, has been elected vice president in charge of manufacturing for the Hoyer Products company of New Jersey.

A graduate of Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Mr. McCormack took a position with the company after his release from the Army in a technical capacity. In addition to his duties as vice-president, he will assume all the functions of production manager, labor relations and matters in connection with labor contracts, and act for the president of the firm in his absence or on special assignments.

The president of the Hoyer company is B. F. W. Hoyer, and the firm is engaged in the manufacture of electrical products, such as automobile batteries and battery chargers.

WILL SETTLE CASE

Iron River—An out-of-court settlement is anticipated in the suit of Eugene Francis Saigh, Iron River, against his brother, Fred M. Saigh, Jr., of Saigh's Cocktail lounge, L. P. Fisher, attorney for the plaintiff, indicated yesterday. A basis for settlement was reached at Dickinson county circuit court Wednesday evening after a conference with Judge Joseph A. Moynahan. The brothers and their attorneys attended. Ernest W. Brown of Iron Mountain is the defendant's counsel.

ANTHONY J. MANLEY, Escanaba's city treasurer for the past 23 years, will complete 41 years of continuous service with the city this evening when he closes his desk for the last time and begins a well earned rest. Now 75, Mr. Manley is retiring August 1 under the state sponsored municipal pension system recently adopted by the city.

City Treasurer A. J. Manley Retires After 41 Years Of Service

When Anthony J. Manley first went to work for the city in September, 1905, the town was just getting over a noisy, awkward childhood and was having plenty of trouble deciding whether it should try to grow up or remain a squawking, irreverent brat. Streets were unpaved and only a few were lighted, lumberjacks brawled on the main thoroughfare and in the entire city there were only 311 electric utility consumers.

These customers of the city it was Manley's job to service and in the years that followed, when the city acquired gas, water and later steam utilities, his department expanded to the point where, today, almost 11,000 consumers of city

RANGERS SERVE AT U. S. PARKS

Naturalists Are Aiding
Visitors Understand
Natural Wonders

Washington—Ranger-naturalists of the U. S. National Park Service are back on the job. These green-uniformed young men and women, who help visitors in the National Parks to see and understand the natural wonders before them, were not at their customary posts during the war—most of them were in other uniforms. But now they or their successors are again conducting nature walks, early morning bird-trips, all-day mountain climbs, and campfire programs and giving illustrated nature talks in the hotels and lodges at night.

All the naturalists are college-trained men and women who have majored in the natural science. In addition to knowing about trees and flowers, birds and beasts and stones, they are able to talk in interesting, plain English that all visitors understand and enjoy.

In most national parks there is one permanent naturalist as a regular staff member. Additional ranger-naturalists are added to the staff for the summer work. Yellowstone Park, for example, has 22 naturalists on duty in July and August.

The types of guided trips conducted by the naturalists vary somewhat from park to park depending upon the physical features of the region. In Yosemite National Park naturalists conduct seven-day hiking trips in the rugged Sierras. Hikers spend each night at a different base camp, where they are adequately but simply sheltered in tents.

In Glacier National Park naturalists accompany the boat trip on lake alpine lakes surrounded by jagged mountain peaks.

When visiting the National Capital Parks in Washington, D. C., one may take a "Nineteenth Century joyride" on a barge behind a mule on the historic Chesapeake and Ohio canal. A naturalist narrates about the trees bordering the tow-path and tells the fascinating history of this out-dated waterway.

Printed announcements of the naturalists' programs are posted in the camp-grounds, hotels, museums, information centers, and park headquarters in all the national parks having the naturalists' services.

Third Of Women To Work In 1950

Washington—By 1950 one in every three women over 14 years of age, or more than 16,000,000 women, will be employed in nearly every type of industry in the United States.

This mass invasion of the man's world will bring to industry problems concerning the health and efficiency of working women that were not solved during the employment peak of the war years when 18,000,000 women were in industry.

"Women appear to be more critical of the working conditions than men," says Dr. Anna M. Baetjer, of Johns Hopkins University, in her new book, "Women in Industry." Adequate lunch periods, rest pauses, and sanitary facilities reduce fatigue and add to the happiness and efficiency of women at work as do proper working hours and accident prevention rules.

Since women are on the average only 85 per cent as heavy as men and have only about 60 per cent as much physical strength, they have often been excluded from jobs that proper training would have enabled them to perform. The War Manpower Commission and the American Medical Association committee on the health of women in industry aided employers to plan normal training periods for jobs for women during the war.

Escanaba Girl And Her AP Staffer Husband To Have Reunion In Berlin

By FELIX WOLD

Detroit, (AP)—Viola's eyes have that roguish wink again.

Viola is the petite, brown-eyed wife of Richard (Dick) Kasischke, Associated Press foreign correspondent who used to chase news in Michigan.

It happens that Viola and Dick, who have been apart for three years save for the flying moments of his one 30-day leave from the wars, are going to have a reunion in Berlin shortly.

"I am so happy," said Viola, "that I hardly believe it can be true, considering all the time it has taken."

Viola said "so long" to Dick three years ago as the long, lanky guy hustled off to New York and thence alone to London's blitz, the invasion, the victory.

Viola stayed home. Their daughter Kathleen, was then eight years old. The world has changed a lot since then.

Now Viola is tremulous with a suppressed excitement. "I don't want to be excited," she says simply.

Wednesday, with Kathleen, she flies from New York to Berlin. All the red tape has been at last unwound.

"I've waited this long—no boats for me," she says. "I want to get there fast."

The Kasischkes who met in St. Joseph, Mich., will make their home in Berlin. Dick will stay on with the AP.

Mrs. Kasischke, a former Escanaba girl, makes it clear she has no illusions of life in war-swept Germany.

"I think I know what I'm getting into," she said. "I've heard about the high costs and high rents. Good gracious you should hear what we'll have to pay for rent!"

Recently AP Columnist Hal Boyle dispatched a story dealing with a visit to the house in Berlin where the Kasischkes will reside.

It appears there was a great to-do about straightening up the place. With maids and hausfraus falling over one another in their zeal.

Viola, winking, noted that Boyle seemed discreet in describing the feminine workers.

"I hope," she said, "Hal Boyle and Dick got their heads together on that point to be sure I wouldn't be jealous."

Viola doesn't know her Berlin address. Nor even the name of the street. Evidently she doesn't give a hoot. It's the airplane ride that counts.

Mrs. Kasischke is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Christie of Escanaba.

Munising—Miss Carol Floria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Floria, 612 West Superior street, was elected president of the Munising Methodist Youth Fellowship at their meeting held in Au Train Sunday, July 28.

Barbara Oslund was elected vice-president; Peggy Chase, secretary; and Peter Seaberg, treasurer.

The young people will hold an outing this coming Sunday, August 4 at Miners Falls.

Fords Take Moose In First Game Of Baseball Tourney

Munising—In the first game of the city play-offs, the Aikinson's Fords nosed out the Moose, nine, 4-3. Bovan led off in the last half of the ninth with a triple. Joe Pelletier drove him in with a winning run, with a sharp single to right center field.

The game was a pitcher's battle through-out, each team having two hits until the final inning. Highlights of the game were Bovan's 13 strike-outs and his triple which provided the winning run.

Also a rousing catch by Dave Depew, robbing Brud of a Texas leaguer hit. For the Moose standouts were: Leiphart's two line hits which drove in the three Moose runs, Boyak's fielding at short-stop, Doucette's nipping of two runners on the bases, and the all around play of Brud the Moose pitcher, who struck out six men and fielded his position perfectly, handling five grounders.

Wednesday night the Fords will play the V. F. W.'s at 6:30 at the Munising playgrounds. The public is invited to attend.

Munising Breaks Winning Streak Of Legionnaires

Munising—The Munising Legionnaires, playing on their home diamond Sunday, took the game away from the Marquette Legionnaires, by a score of 4 to 3, spoiling a victory string of seven wins for the visitors and keeping their own hold on second place in the Rainbow league.

Wayne Johnson was the pitcher bringing the team to victory, helped along by Feldhausen at third and Bernard Aken at short.

Munising didn't take the lead until the sixth inning, after tying the score in the fifth. In the eighth they had the Marquette score doubled which was jeopardized somewhat in the ninth when the visitors made a point but didn't get any further and the Legionnaires won 4 to 3.

Fleefooted Hopp Increases His Lead

New York, July 29 (AP)—Johnny Hopp appeared in only four games during the last week but the fleefooted outfielder of the Boston Braves increased his lead in the National league's individual batting derby to 15 points.

Leading the parade a week ago with 379, Hopp rapped out seven safeties in 16 trips to the plate during the seven day span ending Sunday to bring his mark up to 381. Dixie Walker of the Brooklyn Dodgers is runner-up with 367.

Walker replaced the Cards' Stan Musial as the senior loop's second best hitter by collecting nine hits in 23 times at bat while Musial went four for 18 to drop from 369 to third with 362.

Johnny Mize, New York Giants first baseman, who increased his pace-setting home run output to 22, also jumped his batting average from .328 to .344 to retain fourth place.

Trailing Mize are Ed Stanky, Brooklyn, 311; Sid Gordon, New York, 309; Phil Cavarretta, Chicago, 305; Tommy Holmes, Boston, 303; Red Schoendienst, St. Louis, 301 and Pee Wee Reese, Brooklyn, 299.

Musial continued to lead the circuit in hits, 134, runs, 74, doubles, 28 and triples, 10. Enos Enos Slaughter of St. Louis remained atop the field in runs batted in with 76 compared to Walker's 75.

Pistol Pete Reiser of Brooklyn also held onto the lead in stolen bases with 25, 11 more than Bert Hass of Cincinnati.

Southpaw Howie Pollet of St. Louis took over the top rung in pitching honors with a 12 and 4 record and Veteran Kirby Higbe of Brooklyn the runner-up spot with a 9 and 3 mark.

TOM BOLGER
ManagerDAY CAMP IS OVER FOR '46*Eighty-One Girl Scouts Participated In Outings

The Girl Scout Day Camp at Marble Park on Bunker Hill recently completed a three - week period for Brownie and Intermediate Scouts for 1946.

Eighty-one girls participated in the camp which was under the direction of Mrs. Grier Ivory.

Sessions developing nature, dramatics and out-door cooking provided the program. The last was particularly effective as the Intermediate Scouts cooked mock angel food and gingerbread in reflector ovens, pancakes on tin can stoves and baked fish on planks in addition to the usual camp cooking. For these activities Mrs. Wilfred Bedard served as unit leader and Shirley Lied and Beverly Burt were junior counselors.

The camp staff was as follows: Mrs. Grier Ivory, director; Miss Alice Dehlin, first aider; Mrs. A. C. Peterson, dietitian; Mrs. William Green, business manager; Beverly Burt, Alice Dunsmore, Shirley Lied, Gerrie Girard, junior counselors; Meadames Boydston, Gazlay, Hult, Wixom, Bedard, S. Louis, Ohman, unit leaders; Carol Hendrickson, Carol Cowen and Phyllis Darion, program aides.

WILL INSPECT SEED POTATOES

Expert To Visit Fields Of Seed Potatoes In Area

The first inspection of certified seed potato crops in Schoolcraft county for the current season will be made today in Inwood and Hiawatha townships, Joseph Heirman, county agricultural agent, announces.

Herb Reilly, from the Michigan Crop Improvement association, is making the tour in company with the county agent and will inspect the crops of James and William Wieland, Maynard Blanchard and Russell Tennant, in Hiawatha township; and Joe Harding, Henry McGinn, John Hartman and Otto Winkel, in Inwood township.

The potato crop in this area, in spite of a late start, has made splendid progress and indications point to a good yield of quality spuds this fall, says Mr. Heirman.

Briefly Told

Meeting Postponed—The Golden Star Lodge has postponed their regular meeting scheduled for Thursday, until August 8. The meeting will be held at the Engle Johnson home on Schoolcraft avenue.

Meet Friday—There will be a pot luck dinner meeting of the entire official board of the First Methodist church on Friday evening, August 2. Regular monthly meetings are planned, and as this is the first regular meeting since the pastor's arrival, a good attendance is desired.

Hay Fever Pollen Is Non-Existent In Manistique

Manistique still maintains a perfect record as a community where hay fever is not tolerated.

In the past several weeks that the pollen count has been recorded for the season, the score has been absolutely zero.

Pollen collecting slides have been set out each morning, taken in at night at the Coast Guard station and sent for inspection and count to the state laboratory at Powers. Thus far no hay fever producing pollen has been found on the slides.

Throughout the years that this count has been taken very little rag weed pollen has been found. Rag weeds do not thrive in this climate.

The first motorist to be fined for spending paid $10 for driving at ten miles an hour.

WILL FEATURE SPRING AT FAIR

J. I. Bellaire Given Charge Of Local Exhibit

Kitch-i-ki-pi in miniature will again be one of the attractions at the Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba.

Through the sponsorship of the Schoolcraft-Manistique Chamber of Commerce, this unique attraction which on a small scale correct in every detail is a replica of Schoolcraft county's major attraction, will be set up at the fair grounds and John I. Bellaire, the spring's number one booster, will be given charge of its construction and assigned to duty at the fair to explain and call attention to the Big Spring's remarkable features.

Through Mr. Bellaire's painstaking effort, the trees, the outlet, the raft, the greenish tint to the water and even the bubbling spring effects, with real Kitch-i-ki-pi sand churning about at the bottom, will be shown.

This attraction has been much favored by visitors at the fair in past years and has always increased the number of visitors to the Big Spring in the weeks that followed the exhibition.

Ipswich Is In Which Part Of England?

It pays to know a bit about geography before appearing before Judge W. G. Stephens in local justice court. A stranger, picked up on a vagrancy charge, found that out Tuesday morning.

In asking a few routine questions, Judge Stephens inquired, "Where were you born?"

"In England," said the stranger.

"What part?"

"Cornwall."

"What town?"

"Ipswich," the stranger glibly replied.

"That's where you're wrong," said Judge Stephens. "I happen to be a native of Cornwall and I happen to know that there is no Ipswich there. That town is north of London."

The stranger, who has pan-handled Manistique before, was given a fine which was suspended on condition that he leave town pronto.

In 1859 it was discovered that petroleum could be produced from the earth by drilling.

In Memoriam

In sad and loving memory of our beloved husband and father, John V. Lustila, Sr., who passed away four years ago today, July 31, 1942:

Two years of silent sorrow,
Two years of grief and pain,
Our hearts are sad and lonely,
Since you went away.
You left us so very quickly,
God called, and you had to go,
You could not even say good-bye.
And dear, we miss you so.
We often sit and think of you,
And talk of how you died,
Friends may think we have forgotten,
When at times they see us smile,
We miss you here,
We miss you there,
Your loving smile, your loving face.
And when we sit and think of you,
For all of us you did your best,
God grant you eternal rest.

Signed:

RUSS LEONARD SETS RECORD

Shoots 32, Four Under Par, On Marquette Golf Course

Marquette—Getting five pars and four birdies, Russ Leonard, golf pro, set what is believed to be an all-time record at the Marquette Golf and Country club Saturday afternoon by shooting a 32, four under par for the course.

Leonard made his birdies on the second, fourth, fifth and eighth holes, using three strokes in the fourth and four in the others. In addition, he sank every putt, making no concessions on close plays. Leonard was touring the course with Jimmie Ward, Dr. R. H. Bordeaux and Dr. W. D. Salo, when he set the record.

The last known record low for the course was made by a visitor, whose name has since been forgotten, in 1932 with a mark of 33.

Family of Golfers
Leonard, who hails from French Lick Springs, Indiana, comes from a family of golf professionals. He has five brothers, all older, who are also golf pros. They are Herman, Bedford, Ind.; Everett, Appleton, Wis.; Cotton, Escanaba; Howard, Peoria, Ill.; and Floyd, Milwaukee Country club, Milwaukee.

The last-named, Floyd, holds the Wisconsin state open championship, having won it last year.

As for Russ himself, it's not the first time he's set new records. In 1938 he broke the nine and 18-hole course records at Rhineland, Wis., getting a 29 on the 35-par nine-hole course and a 62 on the 70-par 18-hole course.

Russ is married and has six children—with a ration of five to one in favor of the girls. The family lives on North Front street. Leonard, who came to Marquette last year, also has three nieces and a nephew who are top-notch golfers.

MANY FISHING ON ESCANABA

Local Stream Attracts Attention Of Trout Fishermen

Trout fishermen from lower Michigan are fast becoming acquainted with fine trout fishing in fast-flowing Escanaba river north-east of here.

Howard Eldred, manager of the Escanaba game area, reports this stream is getting a heavy play by fishermen from the Grand Rapids area and other downstate points. He contends it is "the best trout stream in Michigan."

"Those who fish the Escanaba come back year after year," Eldred says. "The river has plenty of white water where it boils over limestone ledges. It is the nearest to Rocky mountain trout streams that we have in Michigan."

Between 60 and 70 miles of good trout fishing water in the Escanaba basin is well-stocked with speckled, rainbow and brown trout.

"During the rest of July and August, the stretch of river between Boney Falls and No. 3 power dam is a favorite spot with fishermen," Eldred said. "When they hook a nice 14 to 16-inch trout in the fast water they really enjoy some sport."

Usually small trout flies, tied on No. 20 or 40 hooks, are used on the Escanaba. Two popular trout flies which have proven effective are the "OYW"—orange-yellow-white fly tied with orange and yellow yarn and woodcock feather, and the orange and white fly tied with orange yarn and a white bucktail. The Cahill fly, fished well, and redwood and red-dish-brown hackle flies with very small hooks also are widely used.

Because of the very slippery rock bed of the river near fishermen on the stream spend half their time on the bottom or getting "up," Eldred said. "They soon learn that felt or rubber cemented on the bottom of their waders will prevent slipping."

The Escanaba in its lower reaches varies from 150 to 400 feet in width. In some places, it rushes down through narrow gorges, like a wild mountain stream.

Former resident of Rockford, Eldred managed the Gladwin and Midland game areas before coming here three years ago.

HERMANVILLE DEFEATS BEARS

Hermansville defeated the Escanaba Bears, 6 to 1, in an exhibition game at the City diamond last evening.

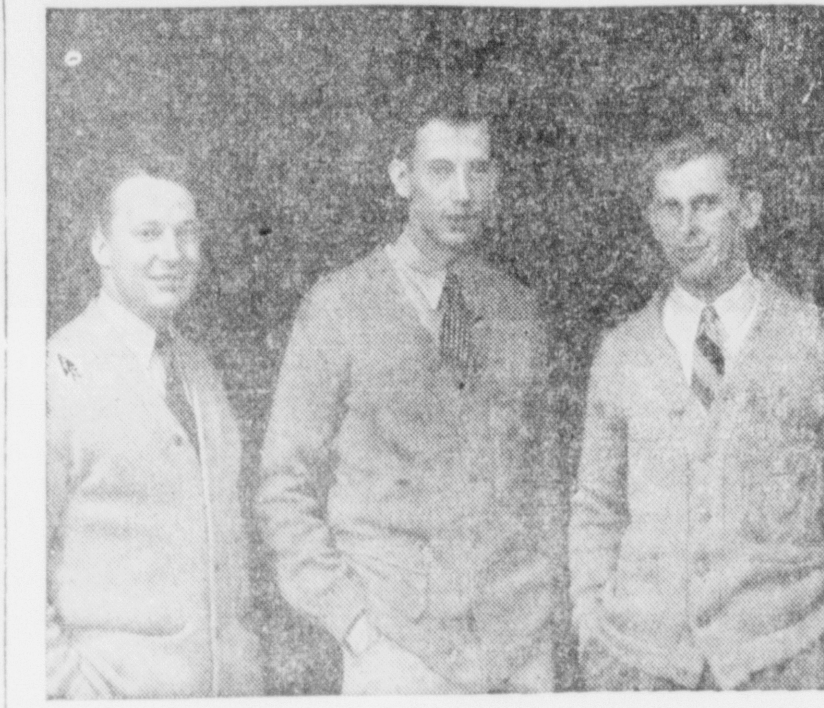

The visitors held a 2 to 1 lead until the sixth inning when they put the game on ice with four runs as Jim Fitzpatrick run into a streak of wildness. Four bases on balls, an error and two hits accounted for the four tallies. Beck finished the pitching chore for the Bears.

Steve Machalk pitched all the way for Hermansville, yielding six hits but he kept them well scattered. Hermansville also pounded out six hits.

The summary: Hermansville 110 004 0—6 Escanaba 010 000 0—1 Beck, Machalk and Miketina; Fitzpatrick, Beck and Flath.

Eskymo Gridders To Hold Practice Session August 19
Coach George Ruwitch of the Escanaba high school announced yesterday that the Eskymos will hold their first football practice on Monday, Aug. 19.

A preliminary meeting of the players will be held on Saturday, Aug. 17.

Softball Managers Asked To Complete All-Star Selections

Managers of softball teams in the American league are requested to complete their all-star selections before Thursday of this week.

Two full teams are to be chosen. Players selected by the managers are to be chosen from opponents' teams and not from their own clubs.

Each manager is to name four players for each infield and outfield position, six pitchers, four managers and four coaches. This list of players may be left at the city youth center or with Rev. A. A. Schabow, president of the Escanaba Softball Association.

Hermansville Wins From Powers Nine

Hermansville—Powers met defeat on her own diamond Sunday when the Hermansville nine trounced the home-boys by a score of 5 to nothing. The visitors were helped by a home run and a two base hit, both by Massignon, third baseman.

Hermansville gained the lead in the first inning with one run. She piled on another tally in the third, added another in the fifth, and clinched things with two scores in the sixth.

TIGERS CROWD SECOND PLACE

Yanks Nosed Out, 6 To 5, As Trucks Strikes Out 13 Batsmen

Detroit, July 30 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers climbed within a single game of second place in the American League by squeaking over the New York Yankees today as Virgil (Fire) Trucks struck out 13 Yankee batsmen.

A three-run error by Pitcher Floyd Bevens, who missed First Baseman Steve Souchock's throw at first for the third out gave Detroit all but one of four runs they scored in the third inning. Eddie Lake scored from third, George Kell from second and Hank Greenberg came all the way from first while Bevens was retrieving the ball.

Yankee homers by Tommy Henrich, Charley Keller and Aaron Robinson produced four runs for the Bronx Bombers off Trucks' last one, but Skeeler's double and Trucks' single brought the Tigers another run in the fourth and Dick Wakefield's triple and Roy Cullenbine's fly to deep center made it 6-4 in the Detroit eighth.

Robinson and Souchock singled to open the Yankee ninth and Joe Gordon walked to fill the bases with nobody out but Manager Bill Dickey rapped into a double play, one run scoring, and Pinch-hitter Bill Johnson grounded out to end the game with the tying run on third.

Henrich's home run, his 10th of the season, was his third off Trucks, who now has been tagged for 10 homers by the Yanks alone. Keller's blast came after Starnweiss had walked in the sixth and Robinson's clout, also in the sixth, was New York's 15th circuit swing in Briggs Stadium this season.

After the flurry of homers Trucks steadied quickly, however, and fanned five of the next seven men to face him.

Virgil's total of 13 strikeouts gave him a total of 129 for the 22 games in which he has worked and the single game effort equalled Hal Newhouse's best strikeout day this season, when he also fanned 13 men against Washington.

Bob Feller twice this year has struck out 14 men in a single game. With Hal Newhouse on the shelf temporarily with an ailing left elbow, Al Benton drew the Detroit pitching assignment against New York tomorrow, opposing Marius Russo.

By winning, the Tigers would take sole possession of second place back of the league-leading Boston Red Sox.

FERRIS BLANKS INDIANS
Cleveland, July 30 (AP)—Dave (Boo) Ferris shut out the Cleveland Indians with three singles and Ted Williams and Glen Russell slammed home runs as the rampaging Boston Red Sox racked up a 4 to 0 victory tonight before 56,000, largest local crowd of the season.

Ferris' triumph was his 17th of the campaign. He retired the side in order in six of the nine innings and permitted only one hit in the last seven frames. Only one Tribesman reached second base.

Williams' four-bagger, his 28th of the season—dropped into the right field seats in the fourth. Russell clubbed his in the fifth. The Sox added their other two markers in the eighth on a single by Ferris, a triple by Wally Moses and a single by Johnny Pesky.

SINGLE IN 9TH NIPS CUBS, 3-2

Giants Register Rare Victory Over Bruins At Polo Grounds

New York, July 30 (AP)—The New York Giants scored one of their rare victories over the Chicago Cubs this season when Little Goodie Rosen rapped a pinch single to right with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth inning today for a 3-2 edge.

A slim paid crowd of 8,412 at the Polo Grounds saw the New Yorkers account for their fourth triumph in 16 meetings with the Cubs.

Russ Bauers, third Chicago hurler of the day, was rapped for the winning blow although Bill Chipman, who started the ninth in place of starter Paul Erickson, was tagged with the defeat. Chipman set up the winning run when Johnny Mize clouted a double. Bauers came in with men on first and second and one out. A ground out advanced both runners and an intentional pass set the stage for Rosen's winning hit.

Gene Thompson, who relieved Mike Budnick in the seventh, received credit for the victory.

CARDS DOWNED, 2-1
Brooklyn, July 30 (AP)—Brooklyn stretched its National league lead to 3½ games over the challenging St. Louis Cardinals tonight as Rube Melton spun a four-hit 2-1 victory over the Red Birds for his first victory of the season.

Melton, a ex-GI who had started only one previous game and never worked longer than six innings all season, outpitched the brilliant Howie Pollet, National 1 rue leader, snapping the Card southpaw's five-game win streak and handing him his fifth setback to 12 triumphs.

When Melton wavered in the ninth, Manager Leo Durocher called in Hank Behrman, who put out the blaze with the help of a brilliant play by Eddie Stanley who gobbed up Harry Walker's roller on the short stop side of second base and backhanded to Pee Wee Reese in time to make a vital force on Whitely Kurowski.

Melton and Pollet had matched pitch for pitch in six scoreless innings, each allowing two hits until the seventh. Enos Slaughter was hit by a pitched ball but Musial was nipped at third on Kurowski's attempted sacrifice. After Harry Walker fled deep to brother Dixie Walker in right, Rookie Catcher Joe Garagiola fractured the shuteout with a single to right scoring Slaughter.

Reese led the Brook's counter-attack in the home half of the seventh when he drove a triple to the deep leftfield corner. After Pete Reiser fouled to Kurowski, Dixie Walker squared matters with a smash through Kurowski that went for a score-tying single. Dixie was wild-pitched to second and scurried home with the winning tally on Carl Furillo's ground rules double that bounced into the left field seats.

Romantic Carhop, 26, Who Hooked Suitors By Mail Is Freed

Detroit—(AP)—Placed on probation for three years by a Federal judge for using the mails to defraud the many men who sought her hand in marriage, Evelyn Katherine Stanton, 26-year-old carhop, collapsed as she left the courtroom.

She was revived by court attendants. Mrs. Stanton, who described herself in matrimonial papers as handsome and with a beautiful form, had pleaded guilty to the mail fraud charge. She faced a possible maximum sentence of 30 years in prison.

Federal judge Arthur A. Kosciuszko gave her a sentence of five years in prison, suspended for two years, in addition to the probation.

The government charged that she carried on her correspondence with lovers and males from her home in Clawson.

Austrian-born Vicki Baum writes her novels in German, and then has them translated.

The domesticated cat was an object of veneration among the Egyptians.

54 REGISTRANTS RE-CLASSIFIED

Some Men Now 1-A May Get Draft Orders In September

Fifty-four Delta county registrants between the ages of 19 through 29 were recently re-classified as 1-A by local draft board officials and will be subject to induction calls following pre-induction physical examinations scheduled during August and September. All of the men are non-fathers.

Draft board officials said that some of the men may be drafted in September.

A number of the re-classified registrants formerly served with the merchant marine but no longer have a maritime status according to current draft board records.

A memorandum just issued by the national selective service headquarters to local boards states that registrants aged 19 through 29 may no longer be given occupational deferments unless "he is irreplaceable in an indispensable to an activity essential to the national existence."

Certain other registrants otherwise eligible for induction who may be deferred include full-time students in medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine or osteopathy; teachers in the physical sciences; and certain professional courses; university research workers in the physical sciences and advanced students in the physical sciences.

TO MEDIATE STRIKE—James Greenfield, Lansing, representative of the state labor mediation board, arrived here yesterday to offer his services in the efforts to settle the strike at the Escanaba Steam Laundry.

Greenfield, Lansing, representative of the state labor mediation board, arrived here yesterday to offer his services in the efforts to settle the strike at the Escanaba Steam Laundry. Greenfield will call representatives of the union and management together today to discuss their differences over wages and working conditions.

A resident of Norway, Mich., for many years, Greenfield was employed as a state bank examiner for several years, and later became a national bank examiner. During Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald's administration, he was employed as an auditor for the state board of tax administration.

Bill Doyle And Woodfill Clash Over Movie Stars

By REX G. WHITE

Mackinac Island—Once upon a time there were two kings but only one kingdom.

That has happened before in history and always there were difficulties and swords were clanging. In time one of the kings moved out, sometimes feet first on his shield, and other times he merely left.

The residents of Mackinac Island are wondering just what, if anything, is going to happen in their water-girt kingdom. Their two kings are sword-wielding William F. (Bill) Doyle, resident state park commissioner, and W. S. Woodfill, manager of the Grand Hotel.

The feud between the two, which began some time ago, reached a peak during the stay of the MGM company, intent on making a motion picture with the far-famed island as scenic background. Just why there was no explosion is still a question among the citizens.

The two men have long known each other and for years their relationship was most pleasant. Both have large followings who will tell all inquiries that their respective leader is "a swell fellow, a grand guy and a perfect gent."

2 Versions on Combat

Now, there are two versions of the battle that was, and whatever battle may be. Friends on both sides are urging the pair to shake hands and forget the whole matter. Perhaps they will.

One version says the present row began when Commissioner Doyle was not invited to a cozy little party tossed by Joseph Pasternak, a very important gentleman in the world of the cinema.

Pasternak is the man who chose Mackinac's scenic value as a movie background. He ordered a story written, a cast of stars headed by Esther Williams and Jimmy Durante, to be selected and he prepared to spend a half million or so.

On the eve of the picture taking he dropped in on the island to make sure everything was in place and readiness.

Tosses a Little Party Pasternak, a great hand for details, looked over the situation. He was highly pleased and told Woodfill so.

Pasternak said he had to leave the next day and let mere directors and such handle the actual shooting but as an expression of his pleasure and appreciation he would like to throw a small party—and he did. Among the guests were Gov. Kelly and Charles R. Dietz, Detroit representative of the MGM corporation.

It is now time to glance over a letter sent to Gov. Kelly from the obviously irate pen of Dietz. It is dated July 14.

"Dear Gov. Kelly:

"It is quite important that I report to you an incident which occurred at approximately 1 o'clock this morning.

"While walking in front of the Grand Hotel I was approached by Bill Doyle and he rather bombastically stated that if MGM thought they had clear sailing in shooting their picture they were reckoning without a host.

"He went on to state that he was not concerned whether the company had received permission from Gov. Kelly or the Grand Hotel or anybody else, that the representatives of MGM had bet-ter get over to the Fort (Doyle's home and office) first thing in the morning and see where they stood."

"I therefore am asking your opinion."

Letter Is Bitter

As you will readily see, a fuse had been touched off. Just in case the fuse sputtered out another was lit by Woodfill in a letter to Doyle. It was, to speak lightly, a bit acrimonious. Also it was lengthy.

"The Governor advised me," wrote Woodfill, "that you told Mr. Dietz the picture people would not be permitted to make the picture here unless your approval was secured.

"This is to advise you that MGM does not need your approval to make a picture as it can well be made on the hotel grounds, at my house and in the village over which area you and your State Park Commission have no authority."

There was a good deal more in the letter about Doyle's complaints that MGM was taking too many carriages from the street.

It might be explained that the Grand Hotel caused ropes to be run across the hotel steps and paths leading into the hotel grounds with signs which advised that only guests of the hotel were permitted to enter.

One of these rope barriers was alleged to have been strung across the public highway that bisects the hotel grounds. Doyle contended the Grand Hotel is a part of the Mackinac scene and deserves its fame from that fact and should, not be made inaccessible to the public.

Bombshell Dropped

The next blast was a bombshell in the form of a letter to Doyle: "Inasmuch as you have seemed so displeased with the manner in which I am running my hotel—I do not care to ever have you in this hotel as long as you are a member of the Park Commission."

The letter urged Doyle to resign as commissioner.

Plans to Fight On

On Thursday, July 18, a blistering reply from Doyle was sent.

"When I live by the sword I am willing to die by it," he wrote. "By no means do I intend to resign. I have three unfinished tasks to perform on this commission all of which are for the long range good of the island—and I don't quit in the middle of any job, regardless of how disgusted I might get.

"Your policy of handling the hotel and who you do and do not allow on your premises is your business. You have caused much ill feeling—right or wrong—among many fine Michigan people."

Friends of Doyle say he had a right to resent the failure of the picture people to contact him. That his job of resident commissioner made him responsible for the safety of the citizens and also responsible for any damage that might arise to historic monuments or to any inconvenience caused the visiting public, for whom the State park is maintained.

Why Motor Oils Get NERVOUS Breakdowns

Motor oil is busy as a one-armed paper hanger. It must COOL your engine, SEAL IN combustion, lubricate and clean—all at the same time.

But gasoline and moisture seep into the oil; dust and grit collect along with soot and metal particles, and soon convert the oil into a mayonnaise-like mixture, SLUDGE. Then the oil can't effectively do its work and parts wear out—UNSEEN!

Our exclusive, patented CiscoSolvent treatment DIS-SOLVES sludge. In twenty minutes the oiling system is freed of dirty dregs—metal parts are left clean. Your engine can then get full benefit from fresh, new motor oil.

CLEAN OIL IN A CLEAN ENGINE is the most economical protection you can buy.
